You should work at everything you do and try to perfect it as best you can.

~Aaron Watson

There's just enough drinking and cheating songs around without me adding to them. Unless you've got something better than "Misery and Gin" by Merle Haggard, you're beating a dead horse.

~Aaron Watson

I'll work to maintain my work ethic out on the road, playing my shows, giving 110%, keeping God first, my family second, and treating my fans like royalty.

~Aaron Watson

Family is fun, way more fun than music.

~Aaron Watson

I couldn't write a song to save my life. I wouldn't say that I started to panic, but I was definitely getting frustrated. I couldn't even cross a t or dot an i.

~Aaron Watson

I want to keep my fan base supplied with a steady chain of music.

~Aaron Watson

I would rather have 100,000 fans for a lifetime than a million for a couple years.

~Aaron Watson

I still have a lot of passion for music, but I would quit it tomorrow if that's what my family needed me to do. I'm sure I'd miss it, but it's a job.

~Aaron Watson

I'd like to think that throughout my career whatever my current record is has 110% of my best.

~Aaron Watson

I think most performers are just lazy.

~Aaron Watson

Once I made up my mind that music was what I wanted to do, I never looked back.

~Aaron Watson

There might be some of them that don't care. To me, it's important that my fans know how much I appreciate them.

~Aaron Watson

I just never gave anything else much thought after music. I just hope that I'm doing what God intended me to do, and that's all.

~Aaron Watson

I always tell people that my primary job is being a dad and husband. Music is just what pays the bills.

~Aaron Watson

I'm living the dream. I've got a big tour bus, an incredible band, a big house, and a family that are all taken care of through my music. I've got a beautiful wife and three beautiful kids.

~Aaron Watson

I keep a pretty tight grip on my schedule and I compare it a lot to a fireman's - a four-on then four-off type of deal.
