In my hometown memories are fresh.

~Adele

Music isn't for the eyes, it's for the ears

~Adele

I don't make music for eyes. I make music for ears.

~Adele

Be brave and fearless to know that even if you do make a wrong decision, you're making it for a good reason.

~Adele

I've never had a problem with the way I look. I'd rather go for lunch with my friends than go to a gym.

~Adele

I have insecurities of course, but I don't hang out with anyone who points them out to me.

~Adele

Don't underestimate the things that I will do.

~Adele

A drunk tongue is an honest one in my opinion.

~Adele

I like having my hair and face done, but I'm not going to lose weight because someone tells me to. I make music to be a musician not to be on the cover of Playboy.

~Adele

I've got some news... I'm delighted to announce that Simon and I are expecting our first child together. I wanted you to hear the news direct from me, obviously we're over the moon.

~Adele

Heartbreak can definitely give you a deeper sensibility for writing songs. I drew on a lot of heartbreak when I was writing my first album, I didn't mean to but I just did.

~Adele

I've never wanted to look like models on the cover of magazines. I represent the majority of women and I'm very proud of that.

~Adele

Beauty comes from within, not from what you wear.

~Adele

I'm like Johnny Cash. I only wear black.

~Adele

Let the sky fall, when it crumbles - We will stand tall - Face it all together

~Adele

I've seen people where it rules their lives, you know, who want to be thinner or have bigger boobs, and how it wears them down. And I just don't want that in my life.

~Adele

I can't dance to save my life.

~Adele

Regrets and Mistakes, they're Memories made

~Adele

Should I give up or should I just keep chasing pavement, even if it leads nowhere?

~Adele

I would only lose weight if it affected my health or sex life, which it doesn't.

~Adele

Whenever I'm about to eat meat I always see my little dog's eyes.

~Adele

Next time I'll be braver, I'll be my own savior, Standing on my own two feet.

~Adele

Sometimes it lasts in love, But sometimes it hurts instead.

~Adele

I won't let you close enough to hurt me.

~Adele

The scars of your love remind me of us they keep me thinking that we almost had it all the scars of your love they leave me breathless I can't help feeling we could have had it all

~Adele

People are starting to go on about my weight but I'm not going to change my size because they don't like the way I look.

~Adele

I don't care if you're black, white, short, tall, skinny, rich or poor. If you respect me I'll respect you

~Adele

I don't have time to worry about something as petty as what I look like.

~Adele

So is it over is this really it You've given up so easily I thought you loved me more than this

~Adele

There's a fire starting in my heart

~Adele

If I am constantly working, my relationships fail. So at least now I can have enough time to write a happy record. And be in love and be happy.

~Adele

I let it fall, my heart And as it fell, you rose to claim it, It was dark, and I was sober, Until you kissed my lips and you saved me.

~Adele

We could have had it all...

~Adele

I doubt I'll be singing forever, because at some point people aren't going to want to hear my music, and I hope that I'll still get the opportunity to write songs.

~Adele

The focus on my appearance has really surprised me. I've always been a size 14 to 16, I don't care about clothes, I'd rather spend my money on cigarettes and booze.

~Adele

I don't really need to stand out, there's room for everyone. Although I haven't built a niche yet, I'm just writing love songs.

~Adele

I was about to meet Beyonce, and I had a full-blown anxiety attack. Then she popped in looking gorgeous, and said, "You're amazing! When I listen to you I feel like I'm listening to God."

~Adele

I have never been insecure, ever, about how I look, about what I want to do with myself. My mum told me to only ever do things for myself, not for others.

~Adele

I've never been more normal than I am now.

~Adele

Where you go, I go, What you see, I see, I know I'd never be me without the security, Are your loving arms keeping me from harm Put your hands in my hand & we'll stand.

~Adele

I can't write another breakup record. That would be a real cliché.

~Adele

It's warts and all in my songs, and I think that's why people can relate to them.

~Adele

People think that I popped out of my mother's womb singing 'Chasing Pavements'.

~Adele

Americans are always mortified when I tell them this, but in England, it's a tradition to put your plaques and photographs and awards and gold records and stuff in your bathroom. I don't know why.

~Adele

I don't like going to the gym.

~Adele

I am never writing a breakup record again, by the way. I'm done with being a bitter witch.

~Adele

I've always got on better with boys. Most of my friends are boys. Like, if I have children, I want five boys. Boys love their mothers whereas girls can be so mean to each other.

~Adele

There is nothing that would upset me more than my dad being bribed by the press. It's like, 'Just let them run it, then. Don't you give them ammunition.'

~Adele

I'm not on good terms with any of my exes. That's why we're not together anymore. We're not friends.

~Adele

You can't complain about your dressing room or you'll look like Celine Dion.

~Adele

Crying is really bad for your vocal cords.

~Adele

I love hearing my audience breathe.

~Adele

I'm really happy to be me, and I'd like to think people like me more because I'm happy with myself and not because I refuse to conform to anything.

~Adele

I don't want to be on the cover of Playboy or Vogue.

~Adele

I will not do festivals. The thought of an audience that big frightens the life out of me.

~Adele

I can't believe I did a peace sign on TV - like Ringo Starr!

~Adele

I don't want to be some skinny mini with my tits out. I really don't want to do it and I don't want people confusing what it is that I'm about.

~Adele

I no longer buy papers or tabloids or magazines or read blogs. I used to. But it was just filling up my day with hatred.

~Adele

If I were a writer and not a singer in 10 years, I don't know how I'd feel about writing really personal songs and getting someone else to sing them.

~Adele

I'm nervous whenever I perform.

~Adele

For people to link my music to their lives, it's incredible, there's no other feeling like it.

~Adele

Sometimes my songs wander off a bit and are not always coherent.

~Adele

My worst fear is my music won't connect with the public.

~Adele

I know you haven't made your mind up yet But I would never do you wrong I've known it from the moment that we met No doubt in my mind where you belong

~Adele

I've always written down how I feel.

~Adele

I wouldn't be able to write a song like "Someone Like You" and get someone else to sing it because it's so personal. It's like giving away your heart.

~Adele

I don't want people confusing what it is that I'm about. I just stand there and sing. And I don't do stunts or anything. If I wanted to do all that, I don't think I'd get away with it.

~Adele

My body doesn't have any rhythm, you know. I've got quite good rhythm when I'm singing but my feet are very much two left feet.

~Adele

In the songs I can still be really really direct but in interviews when I'm explaining my songs I shouldn't be so direct about who they're about.

~Adele

I love a card. You know, cards? At birthdays? I collect them.

~Adele

Nothing that I wouldn't do, to make you feel my love

~Adele

My aim in life is never to be skinny.

~Adele

I don't write songs about a specific, elusive thing. I write about love, and everyone knows what it is like to have your heart broken.

~Adele

I don't want to be in everyone's face. I'm a big music fan, and I get really pissed off when it gets like that and I don't want people to get like that with me.

~Adele

You have to prioritize what you stress about when you have a child.

~Adele

I think it's shameful when you sell out. It depends what kind of artist you wanna be, but I don't want my name anywhere near another brand.

~Adele

I want to leave an album behind that is classic, that people in 50 years will refer to and pass on to their children. An album that you never bored of.

~Adele

I do get massively distracted when I've got someone in my life, which I can't afford to do right now...besides, no one treats me as well as I do.

~Adele

I was adopting an Ethiopian child, that's not true. My house was haunted, that wasn't true. God, there's been so many rumours.

~Adele

I'm just writing love songs. I'm not trying to be pop. I'm not trying to be jazz. I'm not trying to be anything. I'm just writing love songs. And everyone loves a love song.

~Adele

I'm very confident. Even when I read people saying horrible stuff about my weight.

~Adele

I am quite loud and bolshie. I'm a big personality. I walk into a room, big and tall and loud.

~Adele

I wanted to be a singer forever. But it's not really my cup of tea. Having the whole world know who you are.

~Adele

When I want to party, I play BeyoncÃ©'s "Crazy in Love." That's always been the song that my friends and I get ready to; or before I go on a first date, I play it to feel sexy.

~Adele

I don't rely on my figure to sell records.

~Adele

I love love songs. But I love pop music as well: Girls Aloud, Kylie, the Spice Girls, East 17, Mika.

~Adele

Sometimes with pop music, you have to see it to love it. With soul music, it's sparse. There's nothing that's pretentious or planned. It's just so gutsy.

~Adele

I love a bit of drama. That's a bad thing. I can flip really quickly.

~Adele

I want to go and see things as a fan again. I am a fan, but I can't remember what it feels like to be a fan anymore. Because I've become an artist. I've become the artist.

~Adele

I'd love to be an artist always, but if no one wants me, I'd love to write songs for other people, be a manager, nurture new talent.

~Adele

I like eating fine foods and drinking nice wine. Even if I had a really good figure, I don't think I'd get my t**s and a** out for no one.

~Adele

Even if I did have, you know, a 'Sports Illustrated' body, I'd still wear elegant clothes.

~Adele

You had my heart inside of your hand but you played it to the beat

~Adele

There will be no new music until it's good enough and until I'm ready.

~Adele
