Marriage isn't a carnival ride.

~Aisha Tyler

I don't believe in superheroes but I love Batman movies. There's a part of every person that is entertained by the idealistic, the fantastic.

~Aisha Tyler

On general principle, I boycott shows that don't employ actors.

~Aisha Tyler

Nothing really worth having is easy to get. The hard-fought battles, the goals won with sacrifice, are the ones that matter.

~Aisha Tyler

Wounds turn into scars and scars make you tough.

~Aisha Tyler

Karaoke is the great equalizer.

~Aisha Tyler

You can only really learn from failure ... To win, you need to fail, and fail hard.

~Aisha Tyler

Pop culture is great, but it can be bad, at times.

~Aisha Tyler

I don't want to be pandered to, so I try not to pander.

~Aisha Tyler

My parents were vegetarians. I'd show up at school, this giant black kid, with none of the cool clothes and a tofu sandwich and celery sticks.

~Aisha Tyler

When I get old and slow down I want to look behind me and see all the fire and the wreckage and no stone left unturned.

~Aisha Tyler

Am I going to complain about being typecast as smart? I don't think so.

~Aisha Tyler

The best advice anybody could have given me was to keep getting up over and over again.

~Aisha Tyler

I'm black, and black don't crack. It does droop.

~Aisha Tyler

I think I was only attracted to drunken douches before I got married.

~Aisha Tyler

I thought I was gonna be an attorney, so I went to Dartmouth and I was a government major and I minored in environmental policy, and I didn't do anything academically around the arts.

~Aisha Tyler

You know, it's about getting out there and having a good time. Not about worrying - all these young books for women are like I'm 29 with a closet full of Prada shoes and I can't get a date. Come on.

~Aisha Tyler

I've always been a gamer, and I had a period where I was gaming at a really hardcore level.

~Aisha Tyler

I'm the kindest, most supportive friend ever, probably to my own detriment, but I hope that I am toughening up a little bit.

~Aisha Tyler

I always wanted to be as busy as possible so that if one job went away I'd still have plenty of other things to do.

~Aisha Tyler

I like the company of guys. I have a lot of good girlfriends that I really love, but you know, most of my close friends are men.

~Aisha Tyler

I want to point out, that this is not my fault that everyone's afraid of me, because I did not kill a couple people the other day.

~Aisha Tyler

I was raised by a single dad, so I've always just kind of liked "guys" stuff. I think my dad just took me to the things he was interested in.

~Aisha Tyler

I grew up on the back of a motorcycle - my dad didn't have a car until I was a teenager. And then my closest friend from grade school was a guy.

~Aisha Tyler

I always tell people that if you really want to know somebody, they should listen to that person's interview with me. I spend a lot of time with my guests.

~Aisha Tyler

Sometimes the mistake I see people make is thinking that they're always going to be up, and I think that's impossible for anyone.

~Aisha Tyler

I'm just going to be the best version of me that I could possibly be and be as funny as I possibly can. I've just got to be myself and hopefully people will find me. And my audience did find me.

~Aisha Tyler

TV always wants more people to be watching.

~Aisha Tyler

Marriage is a mystery and part of it is just being kind to each other, not being selfish.

~Aisha Tyler

I love to be busy and be challenged. I'm my happiest when I'm under pressure and almost overwhelmed by how much I have to get done.

~Aisha Tyler

I liked comedy, but didn't know it was something you could do for a living. I actually wanted to be an attorney.

~Aisha Tyler

I take the most wrenchingly painful moments of my life, brush them off and present them for the amusement of others. Luckily for me, my childhood was torture.

~Aisha Tyler

Pop culture hales you and wants you to fail.

~Aisha Tyler

I like grown up comedy.

~Aisha Tyler

I can tell you this: Stand-up is not glamorous.

~Aisha Tyler

I love Toronto. I love it. I love Toronto. I love Canada. I can't wait to get back. Can't wait to have some Timbits.

~Aisha Tyler

I have always been a softie, and I fight it with every fiber of my being. Sadly, my being's fibers need to hit the gym.

~Aisha Tyler

I'm my own boss and my boss is a total ass.

~Aisha Tyler

I spent most of my seventh grade summer dehydrated, green-tongued, and smelling like a Malaysian whorehouse.

~Aisha Tyler

So much of a stand-up's life is doing live radio and having to be funny and quick on the spot with these strangers, and sort of surgical in terms of how funny I can be in three minutes.

~Aisha Tyler

After going through a lot of procedures and spending a lot of money â€" the doctor said, â€"Look, based on what we're seeing here, I just don't think this is going to happen for you.'

~Aisha Tyler

Comedy is ugly. It's honest, it's raw.

~Aisha Tyler

I'm just myself, so I don't know that I think of myself as a nerd icon.

~Aisha Tyler

But I love stand-up, and it's where I came from creatively, so it's something I never want to walk away from.

~Aisha Tyler

I am absolutely a Giants fan and I'm a Dynasty baby so I was a 49ers fan for a long time.

~Aisha Tyler

Maybe the nails are a little stubby and gnawed on, but I definitely do not have man hands.

~Aisha Tyler

I talk to grown-ups who are out to have a good time and they want to be spoken to in a different way. I don't want to be pandered to, so I try not to pander.

~Aisha Tyler

I have one girlfriend who is dating right now - she's divorced - and she's on Tinder, so we play Tinder. I know that's not a real game, but it's my favorite thing to do.

~Aisha Tyler

I like to be nice. I want to be a hero. I want to save people. Or just kill zombies, because they deserve it, because they're already dead and they can't feel it. They don't have feelings.

~Aisha Tyler

I love it when I come across a word I don't know. And I would never treat my audience like they weren't smart enough to come along with me.

~Aisha Tyler

One thing we do really well on Archer and one thing I've always tried to do in my comedy and my writing and my podcast is to never speak down to my audience.

~Aisha Tyler

They always say some women like to fix people. I don't like to fix people, but you like a challenge.

~Aisha Tyler

Omnipresence can be a good or bad thing, I suppose. I don't want to spend a lot of time thinking about it. I'm super-grateful.
