Desserts are like mistresses. They are bad for you. So if you are having one, you might as well have two.

~Alain Ducasse

Techniques are not the most difficult to teach. The attitudes chefs take are much more important.

~Alain Ducasse

Tasting a dish should be memorable. If nothing remains in the memory of a single guest, then I have made a mistake.

~Alain Ducasse

Failure is enriching. It's also important to accept that you'll make mistakes - it's how you build your expertise. The trick is to learn a positive lesson from all of life's negative moments.

~Alain Ducasse

Everywhere in the world there are tensions - economic, political, religious. So we need chocolate.

~Alain Ducasse

The proportion of ingredients is important, but the final result is also a matter of how you put them together. Equilibrium is key.

~Alain Ducasse

Nowadays, food needs to be healthy, local, sustainable and not filled with too much fat, salt or sugar. It should be slow-cooked and seasonal. That's my vision.

~Alain Ducasse

The planet's resources are rare; we must consume more ethically and equitably.

~Alain Ducasse

A man obsessed: obsessed with perfection, sharing, aesthetics, taste, savoir-faire, and much more.

~Alain Ducasse

I have a very modern way of thinking; the chef is there to lead the team and not just to sit behind the piano.

~Alain Ducasse

Cuisine has become too complicated - this is about subject, verb, adjective: duck, turnips, sauce.

~Alain Ducasse

Classical cooking and molecular gastronomy should remain separate...you can mix two styles and get fusion; any more and you just get confusion.

~Alain Ducasse

The relentless pursuit of being different is very French.

~Alain Ducasse

At my home in the southwest of France, I grow oak, hazel, and lemon trees in my backyard.

~Alain Ducasse

The Asian airlines have the best wine programs.

~Alain Ducasse

Everyone talks about Spanish influences, but where is it?...Tell me 10 great Spanish restaurants in London....You can't give me the addresses. Nor in Paris.
