Enjoy your life today because yesterday had gone and tomorrow may never come

~Alan Coren

I sometimes wonder if the manufacturers of foolproof items keep a fool or two on their payroll to test things.

~Alan Coren

To have a grievance is to have a purpose in life.

~Alan Coren

Democracy consists of choosing your dictators, after they've told you what you think it is you want to hear.

~Alan Coren

There are many mysteries in old age but the greatest, surely, is this: in those adverts for walk-in bathtubs, why doesn't all the water gush out when you get in?

~Alan Coren

Television is more interesting than people. If it were not we should have people standing in the corner of our room.

~Alan Coren

Strictly speaking, the land does not exist; it is merely dehydrated sea.

~Alan Coren

Malta is the only country in the world where the local delicacy is the bread.

~Alan Coren

Being a personality is not the same thing as having a personality.

~Alan Coren

All I know of birds to this date is that sparrows are the ones that are not pigeons.

~Alan Coren

A humorist tells himself every morning, "I hope it's going to be a rough day." When things are going well, it's much harder to make the right jokes.

~Alan Coren

Having lost the last war, they are currently enjoying a "Wirtschaftswunder," which can be briefly translated as "The best way to own a Mercedes is to build one."

~Alan Coren

Since both its national products, snow and chocolate, melt, the cuckoo clock was invented solely in order to give tourists something solid to remember it by.

~Alan Coren

The Act of God designation on all insurance policies; which means, roughly, that you cannot be insured for the accidents that are most likely to happen to you.

~Alan Coren

Jacob is a German Shepherd. (I have never understood why they aren't called German Sheepdogs. What do the Germans call shepherds?)

~Alan Coren

The role of humour is to make people fall down and writhe on the Axminster, and that is the top and bottom of it.
