I have the longing that all writers have for new ears to pour my words into.

~Alasdair MacLean

I remember the period in the 1980s where the Beatles were terminally uncool, and it seemed to me then like they were just my little secret, and the rest of the world didn't know anything about them.

~Alasdair MacLean

One of the great things about being in a band is that you meet so many other musicians who will turn you on to stuff you would never have otherwise found out about.

~Alasdair MacLean

I do like that idea that music can work on two levels, and you only pick up on the second one after a few listens.

~Alasdair MacLean

Folk songs in general, I like. The old spooky Scottish folk songs.
