[Y]ou wonder why anyone would make the mistake of calling it the Commerce Clause instead of the 'Hey, you -can-do-whatever-you-feel-like Clause?

~Alex Kozinski

This is really a pretty good system you have here. What do you call it? "Due process". We're very proud of it.

~Alex Kozinski

Appellate review is not a magic wand and we undermine public confidence in the judicial process when we make it look like it is.

~Alex Kozinski

The more heavily the government regulates the market, the more competition is impeded.

~Alex Kozinski

Most of us continue to believe that those who show utter contempt for human life by committing remorseless, premeditated murder justly forfeit the right to their own life.

~Alex Kozinski

Just to prove that even the silliest idea can be pursued to its illogical conclusion, Legal Realism spawned Critical Legal Studies.

~Alex Kozinski

Millions of people toil in the shadow of the law we make, and much of their livelihood is made possible by the existence of intellectual property rights.

~Alex Kozinski

I think the use of lethal injection is the way of lying to ourselves, to make it look like executions are peaceful, are benign, are sort of like going to sleep, and they're not. They're brutal things.

~Alex Kozinski

My advice would be to whoever is going after judges by name, whether it's the president or anybody else, I think it's a terrible idea. I don't think it's a very smart thing to do a Muslim ban.

~Alex Kozinski

I was born under Communism. I know what it's like to live in a system where you can't speak, you have to whisper. Where the state is so pervasive and so intrusive.

~Alex Kozinski

If we as a society are willing to take away human life, we should be willing to watch it.

~Alex Kozinski

The death penalty is barbaric. And I think we as a society need to come face-to-face with that. If we're not willing to face up to the cruelty, we ought not to be doing it.
