Some people have made the argument, well, Donald Trump is bad, but Hillary Clinton may be worse, or there's really no difference. That's insane. That's completely insane.

~Allan Nairn

People have a tremendous range of options of how they can behave. There's so much in people.

~Allan Nairn

Donald Trump has this ability to reach out and touch the beast inside so many people.

~Allan Nairn

I wouldn't be surprised to see a lot of guns going off, you know, guns held by white men acting as vigilantes, cops who feel more free to open fire against African Americans.

~Allan Nairn

If Trump wins, the only thing blocking complete implementation of the programs of Trump, Paul Ryan, the Koch brothers, etc., is the Senate filibuster by the Democrats.

~Allan Nairn

If someone's pointing a gun at you, you get a surge of adrenaline, but it would be a lot better if they weren't pointing the gun at you in the first place.

~Allan Nairn

In fact, as far as one can tell, Obama seems to have killed more civilians during his first year than Bush did in his first year, and maybe even than Bush killed in his final year.

~Allan Nairn

This is a national emergency, if Donald Trump wins.

~Allan Nairn

One of the priorities of a Trump administration will be to immediately start narrowing the legal space that activists have to mobilize.

~Allan Nairn

The substantive difference between Hillary Clinton and Barack Obama is not really that great.

~Allan Nairn

I think it's true that if Trump wins, there will be a real activist mobilization, no doubt about it.

~Allan Nairn

It's illegal to be a terrorist in the United States.

~Allan Nairn

If Donald Trump wins, it represents a rightist revolution in America.

~Allan Nairn

Donald Trump and Hillary Clinton are on entirely different levels.

~Allan Nairn

Donald Trump has this ability to trigger. He makes that kind of gut appeal.

~Allan Nairn

If Donald Trump wins, it's a national emergency.

~Allan Nairn

A lot of nonwhite people in America know what it's like to feel heat from the authorities, but, you know, all sorts of people can start to feel it now if Trump comes in.

~Allan Nairn

Hillary Clinton isn't that different from Obama in terms of policy.
