

America Ferrera Quotes

People, Real, Thinking, Perfect, Dancing, World, Curves, Love You, Beautiful, Running, Energy, Sleep, Children, Jobs, Mean, Kids, Want, Desire, Hate, Worry

The most important thing you wear is your personality.

~America Ferrera

I was an open, smiley and gregarious child. I could make friends in 30 seconds wherever I went.

~America Ferrera

To me, the tragedy about this whole image-obsessed society is that young girls get so caught up in just achieving that they forget to realize that they have so much more to offer the world.

~America Ferrera

As a child, I didn't know what I didn't have. I'm thankful for the challenges early on in my life because now I have a perspective on the world and kind of know what's important.

~America Ferrera

It's so reassuring to have a woman heroine who triumphs with more than just what she has on the outside who has more to offer the world than just a pretty picture.

~America Ferrera

It would be impossible to be a woman in Western culture and not have your own issues about your image and what you look like.

~America Ferrera

I'm okay if people don't know who I am, but if you remember my character that would be great.

~America Ferrera

I am trying to be guided by my passion.

~America Ferrera

Am I Latin? Am I American? What the hell am I? I love my culture and

I'm very proud of my culture

~America Ferrera

I know that having the perfect body doesn't fix all your problems, or make you love yourself more. To me, it's all about being comfortable in your own skin.

~America Ferrera

I hope to be acting until I'm playing the role of Grandma, and I'd like to branch out in film - producing, directing, all of it. I'll sleep when no one wants to hire me!

~America Ferrera

Having the perfect body doesn't fix all your problems, or make you love yourself more. To me, it's all about being comfortable in your own skin.

~America Ferrera

My parents were both Spanish-speakers and they used to speak to me and my siblings in Spanish and we'd answer them in English.

~America Ferrera

Sometimes I worry more about losing weight than gaining weight, because this is how people know and accept me.

~America Ferrera

I just want to be in my sweats, walk my dog, watch TV and eat pizza.

~America Ferrera

You'd never catch me dancing on tables in public. I have no desire to be known for my personal life.

~America Ferrera

Once I started drinking more water, my skin, hair and nails all flourished.

~America Ferrera

Relationships take time and energy, and your job kind of sucks that all out of you. It takes an extra effort to stay present in a relationship when you are working so many hours.

~America Ferrera

I'm not going to miss wearing the braces very much.

~America Ferrera

I really hate the duties of being a celebrity, like getting dressed up for the red carpet.

~America Ferrera

Relationships take time and energy, and your job kind of sucks that all out of you. It takes an extra effort to stay present in a relationship when you are working kind of hours.

~America Ferrera

I'm not ashamed to say that I cried at an animation movie

~America Ferrera

What's hard about being on the other side of the world is that sometimes the problem feels so big that changing one life doesn't feel like enough. But it is.

~America Ferrera

My siblings are my best friends.

~America Ferrera

Finding the one is not just a feeling, it's an educated guess. I feel like I chose someone to share my life with who is my friend.

~America Ferrera

I was young not too long ago, and I know the last thing you want is someone preaching to you.

~America Ferrera

I don't think running for office is anything I'm prepared for or could even prepare myself for.

~America Ferrera

What's kind of wonderful about being the voice in an animated film is you're a small part of an enormous production. And in a way, you get to remain a little bit objective.

~America Ferrera

Nowadays I'd describe myself as earnest, terribly earnest. I'm the person who wants everybody in the room to feel important and happy.

~America Ferrera

I'll sleep when no one wants to hire me!

~America Ferrera

You'll never see me at the launch of the new PlayStation or some club. For me, the fun stuff is being able to get my mom tickets to 'Dancing With the Stars' - she loves Mario Lopez.

~America Ferrera

I mean, I grew up in the Valley. All my friends were white Jewish kids. So the Latino kids thought I was this white girl.

~America Ferrera

I'm the first one in line to go watch "Spider-Man," but there's definitely something in me that makes me want to go to a movie and see something that makes me feel good about life.

~America Ferrera

I was just so lucky with 'Real Women Have Curves.' At that point, I would have done an insurance commercial. I would have done anything.

~America Ferrera

I could have easily been too afraid to say 'yes' to Chicago, because it requires so much I haven't done before. If I am a flop at singing and dancing, maybe my love for it will carry me through.

~America Ferrera

I just wanted to see every single musical I could. The very first one I saw was 'Beauty and the Beast,' the only one I could get tickets for, and then 'Les Miserables' and then 'Chicago.'

~America Ferrera

The name America has definitely grown on me. I wish there was a big patriotic story behind it, but the truth is that my grandfather was a librarian who knew all sorts of random facts.

~America Ferrera

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Real Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Perfect Quotes
- Dancing Quotes
- World Quotes
- Curves Quotes
- Love You Quotes
- Beautiful Quotes
- Running Quotes
- Energy Quotes
- Sleep Quotes
- Children Quotes
- Jobs Quotes
- Mean Quotes
- Kids Quotes
- Want Quotes
- Desire Quotes
- Hate Quotes
- Worry Quotes