Europe should stick to an open economy, to competition and we should refuse protectionism. It will not save one single job in the long run to protect non-competitive industries.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

Myopia, in more than ninety-five percent of cases, begins between five and ten years of age. It increases largely because the myopic eye is given a minus lens.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

Business as usual is dead. Green growth is the answer to both our climate and economic problems

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

That's what it's like when people have crawled very high up in a tree, then they sometimes need help to get down with ladders and ropes and other instruments.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

The good thing is that all the symbolic elements are gone, and that which really matters - the core - is left.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

I welcome the signing by the presidential candidates Dr. Abdullah Abdullah and Dr. Ashraf Ghani of an agreement on the formation of a government of national unity in Afghanistan.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

Nato allies have been looking at various missile-defence options for some time. Nato itself is developing protections for our deployed troops.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

Russia should recognize the freedom of countries, such as Ukraine, to choose their alliances.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

I am happy to announce that we have reached an agreement on the question of transit between the Kaliningrad region and the rest of the Russian Federation.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

I was deeply distressed that the cartoons were seen by many Muslims as an attempt by Denmark to mark and insult or behave disrespectfully towards Islam or the Prophet Mohammed.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

I don't think more mega-summits is the way to secure effective implementation.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

Perhaps we underestimated the challenges in Afghanistan in the past. That's why we are now strengthening and intensifying our commitment.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

It is the responsibility of Afghanistan's new government to gain better control over the country's administration and to resolutely fight the drug trade and corruption.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

At home, Danes try to resolve their problems amicably so it's just surreal to see these violent pictures on TV. But as the prime minister, I can't be controlled by my emotions.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen

The proliferation of weapons of mass destruction and their means of delivery is a threat to both the Nato allies and Russia.

~Anders Fogh Rasmussen
