

Ann Romney

Quotes

People, Thinking, Needs, Jobs, Looks, Kids, Years, Children, Boys, Mother, Little, Mom, Home, Struggle, Answers, Gone, Differences, Mothers Day, Believe, Taken

If I were a 40-year-old woman, 40-to-50, I'd want to be getting my mammograms. They catch cancers, and cancer is very curable if you catch it early.

~Ann Romney

When I was so fatigued that I couldn't move, the excitement of going to the barn and getting my foot in the stirrup would make me crawl out of bed.

~Ann Romney

How I measure riches is by the friends I have and the loved ones I have and the people I care about in my life and that is where my values are and those are my riches.

~Ann Romney

The greatest advantage of being First Lady is the opportunity it presents to truly make a difference on issues of great importance.

~Ann Romney

The secret to a happy marriage is a sense of humor, because marriage throws you curveballs. It is not easy.

~Ann Romney

It can be here today and gone tomorrow.

~Ann Romney

When you're used to being healthy and strong and vibrant and everything and then - bang - overnight you're desperately ill, it's frightening.

~Ann Romney

We're too smart to know there aren't easy answers. But we're not dumb enough to accept that there aren't better answers.

~Ann Romney

Neither one of us had a job, because Mitt had enough of an investment from stock that we could sell off a little at a time.

~Ann Romney

It's the moms who always have to work a little harder, to make everything right.

~Ann Romney

I love the fact that there are also women out there that don't have a choice and they must go to work and they still have to raise the kids. Thank goodness that we value those people too.

~Ann Romney

As his partner on this amazing journey, I can tell you Mitt Romney was not handed success. He built it.

~Ann Romney

We can be poor in spirit, and I don't even consider myself wealthy, which is an interesting thing. It can be here today and gone tomorrow.

~Ann Romney

Everywhere I go people come up to me, they mob me - anyone who has MS or has a relative with MS - they come up and hug and cry.

~Ann Romney

The thing that's nice about pregnancy is that in the end, you have a baby.

~Ann Romney

I made a choice to stay home and raise five boys. Believe me, it was hard work.

~Ann Romney

This is the genius of America: dreams fulfilled help others launch new dreams.

~Ann Romney

You can never ask God to tell you what the end is. You can ask, "Is this a good thing to do?" But not, "How is this going to turn out?" That answer you will never get.

~Ann Romney

We give 10 percent of our income to our church every year. Do you think that is the kind of person who is trying to hide things, or do things?

~Ann Romney

A storybook marriage? No, not at all. What Mitt Romney and I have is a real marriage.

~Ann Romney

Mitt doesn't like to talk about how he has helped others because he sees it as a privilege, not a political talking point.

~Ann Romney

Sometimes when I hear criticism of my husband, I want to come out of my seat and clock somebody. But you learn to take a deep breath.

~Ann Romney

Everyone in life has their challenges, mine have not been financial.

~Ann Romney

Raising children is the hardest job that there is on the face of the Earth.

~Ann Romney

You have to recognize that deep within your soul, you know who you are - and let [the criticism] go right by you. If you're reacting to it, you're letting it get to you.

~Ann Romney

Once your health is taken away, you have nothing.

~Ann Romney

We are all children of the same God, and we have to come together to solve our problems and not be fighting so much.

~Ann Romney

I know for certain people I'm championing a struggle that they're going through.

~Ann Romney

My faith experience, well, as you can imagine, you need a lot of faith to raise five boys.

~Ann Romney

There have been so many people that have come up and embraced me as an example of what it's like to face something tough and just get up the next day and keep pushing.

~Ann Romney

Riding exhilarated me; it gave me a joy and a purpose.

~Ann Romney

You know how exasperated you can be when you're the mother of five young boys.

~Ann Romney

My kids don't drink and don't smoke. For me, that's a great blessing.

~Ann Romney

It may look perfect, but that's one thing I have learned about life is that it isn't always what it looks.

~Ann Romney

Everybody has problems. Everyone has issues.

~Ann Romney

I eat as healthy as I can. It is tough.

~Ann Romney

I know what it's like to struggle and to have those concerns that all mothers have.

~Ann Romney

I'd sit on a horse and forget I was even sick.

~Ann Romney

You just deal with the cards that are dealt you and you just go on and push forward.

~Ann Romney

We've given all you people need to know and understand about our financial situation and how we live our life.

~Ann Romney

If you really want to know how a person will operate, look at how they've lived their life.

~Ann Romney

We all have burdens and we need to learn to carry each other's burdens, lighten each other's load.

~Ann Romney

We need to respect choices that women make.

~Ann Romney

There is huge merit in both Eastern and Western medicine, and I've taken a little bit from both.

~Ann Romney

Motherhood was my career. I'm totally satisfied with that.

~Ann Romney

I am so mad at the press I could just strangle them!

~Ann Romney

Related Links:

- People Quotes
- Thinking Quotes
- Needs Quotes
- Jobs Quotes
- Looks Quotes
- Kids Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Children Quotes
- Boys Quotes
- Mother Quotes
- Littles Quotes
- Mom Quotes
- Home Quotes
- Struggle Quotes
- Answers Quotes
- Gone Quotes
- Differences Quotes
- Mothers Day Quotes
- Believe Quotes
- Taken Quotes