Some women flirt more with what they say, and some with what they do.

~Anna Held

I think the eyes flirt most. There are so many ways to use them.

~Anna Held

A woman should be like a single flower, not a whole bouquet.

~Anna Held

It is a temptation for me to wear all my rings at once.

~Anna Held

I do not care for the money, just for the glory.

~Anna Held

For a married woman to flirt is a sin.

~Anna Held

I read the papers every day just to discover if one mentions Anna Held.

~Anna Held

My little dog, he did not get ill. It is so funny that people get ill on a boat and dogs do not.

~Anna Held

An idea is our visual reaction to something seen - in real life, in our memory, in our imagination, in our dreams.

~Anna Held

It is quite lovely being single, and I much prefer it.

~Anna Held

Costumes and scenery alone will not attract audiences.

~Anna Held

I do not like vaudeville, but what can I do? It likes me.

~Anna Held

How many women have the courage to start properly with a cold, cold bath early in the morning? I jump in, throw the water, cold as ice, and after the first plunge I am happy.

~Anna Held

I was very adept at acquiring languages.

~Anna Held

I wish to please the people, but I want to make them cry, perhaps. There, I have said it.

~Anna Held

You instinctively discover how to entertain an audience.

~Anna Held

I let my personal feelings take care of themselves. I find that works better.

~Anna Held

Please do not ask me to talk about my divorce. Mr. Ziegfeld and I are such very good friends. It is only a little matter quite between ourselves.

~Anna Held

I am very, very proud of my ability as a cook.

~Anna Held

It is all very well for so-called sensible people to recommend flat heels and short skirts, but most of us prefer not to be sensible.

~Anna Held

I don't want to get married, and I don't want to work after I'm 30, so I must manage my fortune somehow in the next seven years.

~Anna Held

I know I am very beautiful.

~Anna Held

A woman must make her fortune before she is 30; or work after she is 30; or get married.

~Anna Held

I do not say anything from jealousy.

~Anna Held

You'll never catch a man if you let him think you are too smart.

~Anna Held

I don't believe in hasty marriages.

~Anna Held

I have never known the time when I did not wear stays. My stays are part of me.

~Anna Held

I have given up trying to be happy. It is no use and leads to nothing.

~Anna Held

Most women are indulgent of themselves. This is a mistake. It should be only the reward of old age.

~Anna Held

I want to see people turn and writhe; make them feel things they cannot see and sometimes do not know.

~Anna Held

I speak English, so I am no longer cute. My tongue itches for French.

~Anna Held

Yes, I am seeking a husband. As soon as the right man asks me, I shall say, It is not good for a woman to live alone.

~Anna Held

Whatever success I may have attained is due to the fact that since I was old enough to work at all, my ambition has never deserted me.

~Anna Held

If I get married, I think I'd pick out a newspaperman rather than a millionaire. A newspaperman is a regular fellow.
