My doctrine is this, that if we see cruelty or wrong that we have the power to stop, and do nothing, we make ourselves sharers in the guilt.

~Anna Sewell

There is no religion without love, and people may talk as much as they like about their religion, but if it does not teach them to be good and kind to man and beast, it is all a sham.

~Anna Sewell

We call them dumb animals, and so they are, for they cannot tell us how they feel, but they do not suffer less because they have no words.

~Anna Sewell

Good Luck is rather particular who she rides with, and mostly prefers those who have got common sense and a good heart; at least that is my experience.

~Anna Sewell

It is good people who make good places

~Anna Sewell

If you in the morning Throw minutes away, You can't pick them up In the course of a day. You may hurry and scurry, And flurry and worry, You've lost them forever, Forever and aye.

~Anna Sewell

What right had they to make me suffer like that?

~Anna Sewell

My troubles are all over, and I am at home; and often before I am quite awake, I fancy I am still in the orchard at Birtwick, standing with my friends under the apple trees.

~Anna Sewell

My troubles are over, and I am finally home.

~Anna Sewell

Now I say that with cruelty and oppression it is everybody's business to interfere when they see it.

~Anna Sewell

Oh! if people knew what a comfort to a horse a light hand is.

~Anna Sewell

Give me the handling of a horse for twenty minutes, and I'll tell you what sort of a groom he has had.

~Anna Sewell

If a thing is right it can be done, and if it is wrong it can be done without; and a good man will find a way.

~Anna Sewell

He is called the horse

~Anna Sewell

I don't believe in religion, for I don't see that your religious people are any better than the rest.

~Anna Sewell

I am never afraid of what I know.

~Anna Sewell

If you get into the habit of being quick it is just as easy as being slow.

~Anna Sewell

The first place that I can well remember was a large pleasant meadow with a pond clear water in it. Some shady trees leaned over it, and rushes and water-lilies grew at the deep end.
