One may preach a covenant of grace more clearly than another... But when they preach a covenant of works for salvation, that is not truth.

~Anne Hutchinson

Do you think it not lawful for me to teach women and why do you call me to teach the court?

~Anne Hutchinson

Better to be cast out of the Church than to deny Christ.

~Anne Hutchinson

I feel that nothing important ever happens that is not revealed to me beforehand.

~Anne Hutchinson

It was never in my heart to slight any man, but only that man should be kept in his place and not sit in the room of God.

~Anne Hutchinson

As I understand it, laws, commands, rules and edicts are for those who have not the light which makes plain the pathway.

~Anne Hutchinson

I have been guilty of wrong thinking.

~Anne Hutchinson

I desire to know wherefore I am banished?

~Anne Hutchinson

Therefore, take heed how you proceed against me; for I know that for this you go about to do to me, God will ruin you and your posterity, and this whole state.

~Anne Hutchinson

I conceive there lies a clear rule in Titus that the elder women should instruct the younger and then I must have a time wherein I must do it.

~Anne Hutchinson

For you see this scripture fulfilled this day and therefore I desire you as you tender the Lord and the church and commonwealth to consider and look what you do.

~Anne Hutchinson

If you look upon the rule in Titus it is a rule to me. If you convince me that it is no rule I shall yield.

~Anne Hutchinson

Must not I then entertain the saints because I must keep my conscience.

~Anne Hutchinson

An oath, sir, is an end of all strife, and it is God's ordinance.
