

Antony Hegarty

Quotes

Thinking, People, Years, Men, Song, New York, College, Voice, Lonely, War, Feelings, Long, Artist, Opportunity, Mean, Silly, Reality, Reflection, Feminist, Editing

Any woman who says she's not a feminist is just someone who's afraid of being penalised for saying she wants to advocate for women.

~Antony Hegarty

There are so many more productive things to do than sit around feeling shame and guilt. Beyond touching on shame and guilt in a perfunctory manner, I wouldn't bother with that at all.

~Antony Hegarty

I think what holds people up in creative processes is the expectation of what it is they're doing. It's also the sense of judgement, you know, people editing themselves.

~Antony Hegarty

I see everything as creative material. If I pick up a shell of a song that I wrote 10 years ago, all that matters is the reality of that material as it's living today.

~Antony Hegarty

Every year I used to write a musical inspired by John Waters, and I would get all my friends together and put on this perverse, emotional, tragic musical.

~Antony Hegarty

Diane Cluck is a virtuosic talent with an emotionality that feels at once ancient and alien. Her mastery of her voice as an ecstatic instrument is so compelling.

~Antony Hegarty

Related Links:

- Thinking Quotes
- People Quotes
- Years Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Song Quotes
- New York Quotes
- College Quotes
- Voice Quotes
- Lonely Quotes
- War Quotes
- Feelings Quotes
- Long Quotes
- Artist Quotes
- Opportunity Quotes
- Mean Quotes
- Silly Quotes
- Reality Quotes
- Reflection Quotes
- Feminist Quotes
- Editing Quotes