Truth travels slowly and gets weaker as it goes. Suitable lies are strong and run faster.

~Ariana Franklin

Man hovers between Paradise and the Pit.

~Ariana Franklin

Tomorrows were full of awful things. Today, now, was the essential.

~Ariana Franklin

Insanity has excuses; wickedness has not.

~Ariana Franklin

Man provides his own goods and his own evils, neither God nor the Devil has anything to do with it.

~Ariana Franklin

the possession of power brings on madness.

~Ariana Franklin

The law should be the point at which savagery ended because civilization stood in its path.

~Ariana Franklin

To what do you not drive human hearts, cursed for craving gold!

~Ariana Franklin

Love- however doomed, had the capacity to attach bouys to the soul.

~Ariana Franklin

Alcoholism plus criminality plus whatever caused both in the first place form a combination that is very nearly happy-ending-proof.

~Ariana Franklin

Crime, after all, can be a way of establishing identity or acquiring security - at least the magistrate addresses you by name.

~Ariana Franklin

Obviously, not everybody who dies becomes a ghost, otherwise those who are psychic would be aware of shouldering through deep crowds of assorted shades every time they moved.

~Ariana Franklin

I yield to nobody in my admiration for God, but he's no good in bed.

~Ariana Franklin

A daughter,' Rowley scooped up the child and held her high. The baby blinked from sleep and crowed with him. 'Any fool can have a son,' he said. 'It takes a man to conceive a daughter.'

~Ariana Franklin

Ghosts cannot be put on the witness stand, or have their fingerprints taken. They are completely proof against proof.
