We don't take pictures with cameras, we take them with our hearts and minds.

~Arnold Newman

We do not make photographs with our cameras. We make them with our minds, with our hearts, with our ideas.

~Arnold Newman

We don't take photographs with our cameras, we take them with our hearts and our minds. They are a reflection of ourselves...what we are and what we think.

~Arnold Newman

Visual ideas combined with technology combined with personal interpretation equals photography. Each must hold it's own; if it doesn't, the thing collapses.

~Arnold Newman

It seems to me that no one picture can ever be a final summation of a personality. There are so many facets in every human being that it is impossible to present them all in one photograph.

~Arnold Newman

Photography is 1% talent and 99% moving furniture.

~Arnold Newman

Photography, as we all know, is not real at all. It is an illusion of reality with which we create our own private world.

~Arnold Newman

The camera is a mirror with a memory, but it cannot think.

~Arnold Newman

Those who call themselves art photographers are pompous, arrogant

egoists.

~Arnold Newman

Ideas visuales combinadas con tecnología e interpretación personal es igual a fotografía

~Arnold Newman

I often wonder whether I would have done as well in painting.
