The passed Pawn is a criminal, who should be kept under lock and key. Mild measures, such as police surveillance, are not sufficient

The threat is stronger than the execution.

~Aron Nimzowitsch

The beauty of a move lies not in its appearance but in the thought behind it.

~Aron Nimzowitsch

First restrain, next blockade, lastly destroy.

~Aron Nimzowitsch

Many men, many styles; what is chess style but the intangible expression of the will to win.

How can I lose to such an idiot?

~Aron Nimzowitsch

In the middlegame, the king is merely an extra, but in the endgame, he is one of the star actors.

~Aron Nimzowitsch

Do not always be thinking of attack! Moves that safeguard your position are often far more prudent.

The isolated Pawn casts gloom over the entire chessboard

~Aron Nimzowitsch

Strategically important points should be overprotected. If the pieces are so engaged, they get their regard in the fact that they will then find themselves well posted in every respect.

Even the laziest King flees wildly in the face of a double check!

A thorough knowledge of the elements takes us more than half the road to mastership

~Aron Nimzowitsch

Giving up the center must not here be regarded as illogical. Was happiness no happiness because it endured for just a short time? One cannot always be happy.

No pawn exchanges, no file-opening, no attack.

The defensive power of a pinned piece is only imaginary

~Aron Nimzowitsch

The knight of QB3 is under obligation, the moment the enemy gives him the chance, of undertaking an invasion of the center by Kn-Q5.

~Aron Nimzowitsch

Ridicule can do much, for instance embitter the existence of young talents; but one thing is not given to it, to put a stop permanently to the incursion of new and powerful ideas.

Ridicule can do much, for instance embitter the existence of young talents.

~Aron Nimzowitsch

The main Objective of any operation in an open file is the eventual Occupation of the seventh or eighth Rank.
