Another essential to a universal and durable peace is social justice.

~Arthur Henderson

To solve the problem of organizing world peace we must establish world law and order.

~Arthur Henderson

This is our world, and we must make the best of it.

~Arthur Henderson

The forces that are driving mankind toward unity and peace are deep-seated and powerful. They are material and natural, as well as moral and intellectual.

~Arthur Henderson

Whatever we do or fail to do will influence the course of history.

~Arthur Henderson

The drive toward economic nationalism is only part of the general revival of nationalism.

~Arthur Henderson

The world wants disarmament, the world needs disarmament. We have it in our power to help fashion future history.

~Arthur Henderson

In some states militant nationalism has gone to the lengths of dictatorship, the cult of the absolute or totalitarian state and the glorification of war.

~Arthur Henderson

As a first step there must be an offer to achieve equality of rights in disarmament by abolishing the weapons forbidden to the Central Powers by the Peace Treaties.

~Arthur Henderson

The vast upheaval of the World War set in motion forces that will either destroy civilization or raise mankind to undreamed of heights of human welfare and prosperity.

~Arthur Henderson

The nations must be organized internationally and induced to enter into partnership, subordinating in some measure national sovereignty to worldwide institutions and obligations.

~Arthur Henderson

The years of the economic depression have been years of political reaction, and that is why the economic crisis has generated a world peace crisis.

~Arthur Henderson

The world before 1914 was already a world in which the welfare of each individual nation was inextricably bound up with the prosperity of the whole community of nations.

~Arthur Henderson

In our modern world of interdependent nations, hardly any state can wage war successfully without raising loans and buying war materials of every kind in the markets of other nations.

~Arthur Henderson

Thus, the struggle for peace includes the struggle for freedom and justice for the masses of all countries.

~Arthur Henderson

The question is, what are we to do in order to consolidate peace on a universal and durable foundation, and what are the essential elements of such a peace?

~Arthur Henderson

The more the history of the World War and what led up to it is studied, the more clearly those tragic years become revealed as a vast collapse of civilization.

~Arthur Henderson

One of the first essentials is a policy of unreserved political cooperation with all the nations of the world.

~Arthur Henderson

We had four years of world war which the peoples endured only because they were told that their sufferings would free humanity forever from the scourge of war.
