I've always been quite thrifty. I can't bear to spend hundreds of pounds on designer clothes. I shop in second-hand shops in Portobello Road and go to Sue Ryder.

~Ashley Jensen

As a child, I always chose a false nose and some face paint and a wig for my birthday.

~Ashley Jensen

I take my hat off to mums who have lots of kids. Anyone that says being a mum isn't a full-time job has obviously never had any.

~Ashley Jensen

I just wanted to be an actress. It never occurred to me that I could become famous, because I'm not one of those people who's automatically going to be the lead. I always saw myself as the mate.

~Ashley Jensen

My husband is always telling me: 'We're on holiday - we don't need to have an itinerary!' But I always want to see as much as I can. Sometimes, I come back from holiday needing a holiday.

~Ashley Jensen

I've made this conscious decision to tell people on the street when I think they're wearing something great. If more people did that, the world would be a better place.

~Ashley Jensen

Nobody is more individual than you, so be confident with who you are and what you have to offer because everybody has got things to offer.

~Ashley Jensen

Americans are so direct. They'd ask me, 'What's your five-year plan? Do you have a five-year plan?' I don't know what I'm having for my tea tonight let alone a five-year plan.

~Ashley Jensen

I think we should be proud of the fact that our face has got lines, because at least that means we have lived.

~Ashley Jensen

It means I wake up to sunshine every morning, and I can afford to drink better wine at night. But I haven't completely sold out to Hollywood.

~Ashley Jensen

I'm thinking of Mary Poppins, The Sound of Music... there are too many to name really. And all the old classic ones like Snow White & The Seven Dwarfs and Bambi. That's brutal!

~Ashley Jensen

I still giggle when someone asks for my address and I say, Hollywood, Los Angeles.

~Ashley Jensen

I've reached a point in my life where going to the supermarket is a day out.

~Ashley Jensen

Mind you, if a blockbuster movie was offered, I wouldn't say no. I can do accents - I don't always have to be Scottish.

~Ashley Jensen

I wanted to live where I could pop to the bar that Humphrey Bogart took Lauren Bacall to, or the little restaurant where Charlie Chaplin had a booth.

~Ashley Jensen

My mum Margaret was a single parent, but though life was a bit of a struggle she gave me every encouragement.

~Ashley Jensen

Life's too short to worry about injecting botulism into your face to get rid of a tiny line because you've laughed too much. To me, that's a bit warped.

~Ashley Jensen

I always knew I wanted to be an actor, certainly from the age of eight or nine. I think when you know what you want to do, you're very lucky because you've got a focus.

~Ashley Jensen

I always felt slightly grubbier than most American people. I was never quite as groomed as everyone else, never quite as fit as anyone else. I didn't have my protein shake and my vitamins.
