All I know, is that I feel extremely blessed to be on TV. Its a hard job, but real life is harder. Truth be told, playgrounds can be war zones.

~Atticus Shaffer

I love any comedic zombie movies.

I have the belief that we are all created to be unique. We are supposed to be different and do those things that made us who we are.

~Atticus Shaffer

Theatrically, you are aware of every part of you in acting; every component of your surroundings, including the clothes you wear. Eh...in voiceover, shorts and a t-shirt and badaboom...done.

~Atticus Shaffer

My mom has raised me saying, "Always be yourself." So to be able to play a character that verifies just that, is such a thrill and adventure for me.

~Atticus Shaffer

I get a lot of people who will either write to me or come up in public and say, "My daughter, son, family, or I, etc. look up to you."

~Atticus Shaffer

We live in the country. I'm a redneck. No, ha-ha. I live in L.A. County, but more in the hills. Not in the fancy kind! Trust me; whatever you do you do not want to come to my neighborhood!

~Atticus Shaffer

I feel blessed because not only my character is, but I, myself, can be a role model for people to show that is okay to be your own unique self.

~Atticus Shaffer

But my message to people with or without a condition is the fact that you can still do anything you set your mind to. You just have to do it in a slightly different way than other people.

~Atticus Shaffer

Normalcy to me is enjoying the simple things in life.

~Atticus Shaffer

It's really cool going into a casting room and having them know who you are and the work that you've done.

~Atticus Shaffer

When I was 6 I became the poster child for my hospital and would go to banquets and make speeches. I did not get stage fright and I actually enjoyed talking to people of all ages.

~Atticus Shaffer

It doesn't matter about money and fame and whatever. I really don't care about that. My thing is, I'm happy that I'm able to have kids have a hero and have someone that they can look up to.
