And just as you can find hip-hop lyrics beating up on all these groups, including young Black men themselves, the primary producers of the music, you can also find lyrics celebrating them.

~Bakari Kitwana

Hip-hop is a complex music and culture that has been reduced to a one-dimensional critique. Hip-hop's messages aren't all bad. Neither are they all good.

~Bakari Kitwana

I'm not a poster boy for misogyny and I don't think hip-hop should be either.

~Bakari Kitwana

Locally lived hip-hop culture that is giving many of America's youth the tool they need to survive and thrive in America, in the face of public policy that have written too many young people off.

~Bakari Kitwana

I agree that a lot of mainstream corporate sold hip-hop is self-hating.
