I pity the man who wants a coat so cheap that the man or woman who produces the cloth will starve in the process.

~Benjamin Harrison

Great lives never go out; they go on.

~Benjamin Harrison

Prayer steadies one when he is walking in slippery places - even if things asked for are not given.

~Benjamin Harrison

The bud of victory is always in the truth.

~Benjamin Harrison

We Americans have no commission from God to police the world.

~Benjamin Harrison

I am thorough believer in the American test of character. He will not build high who does not build for himself.

~Benjamin Harrison

I'd rather have a bullet inside of me than to be living in constant dread of one.

~Benjamin Harrison

The disfranchisement of a single legal elector by fraud or intimidation is a crime too grave to be regarded lightly.

~Benjamin Harrison

That one flag encircles us with its folds today, the unrivaled object of our loyal love.

~Benjamin Harrison

Lincoln had faith in time, and time has justified his faith.

~Benjamin Harrison

I knew that my staying up would not change the election result if I were defeated, while if elected I had a hard day ahead of me. So I thought a night's rest was best in any event.

~Benjamin Harrison

When and under what conditions is the black man to have a free ballot? When is he in fact to have those full civil rights which have so long been his in law?

~Benjamin Harrison

No other people have a government more worthy of their respect and love or a land so magnificent in extent, so pleasant to look upon, and so full of generous suggestion to enterprise and labor.

~Benjamin Harrison

If you take out of your statutes, your constitution, your family life all that is taken from the Sacred Book, what would there be left to bind society together?

~Benjamin Harrison

Will it not be wise to allow the friendship between nations to rest upon deep and permanent things? Irritations of the cuticle must not be confounded with heart failure.

~Benjamin Harrison

It is often easier to assemble armies than it is to assemble army revenues.

~Benjamin Harrison

The evil works from a bad center both ways. It demoralizes those who practice it and destroys the faith of those who suffer by it in the efficiency of the law as a safe protector

~Benjamin Harrison

Sir, I wish to understand the true principles of the Government. I wish them carried out. I ask nothing more.

~Benjamin Harrison

Have you not learned that not stocks or bonds or stately houses, or products of the mill or field are our country? It is a spiritual thought that is in our minds.
