No person can maximize the American Dream on the minimum wage.

~Benjamin Jealous

I was raised in a family where we were taught that the best thing you could do with your life was to really kind of push the cause of progress and justice and human rights forward.

~Benjamin Jealous

The right to vote is the right upon which all of our rights are leveraged - and without which none can be protected.

~Benjamin Jealous

Let us nurture the practice of family values, by embracing policies that value families.

~Benjamin Jealous

As an American people, what is greatest about our history are the many times we have led this world away from hate, towards hope.

~Benjamin Jealous

In this nation, the greatest of all nations, there are no second-class families. That is our great American conviction.

~Benjamin Jealous

I train my kids to dream really big and impossible dreams and to pursue them doggedly.

~Benjamin Jealous

When somebody says the best thing you can do is be tough, the best thing you can do is use your brute force, then we're selling ourselves short.

~Benjamin Jealous

When you're smart on crime, you start off by recognizing that both the victim, first of all, the victim, but also the person who did the crime are both human.

~Benjamin Jealous

Civil marriage, like all civil rights provided by the government, must be provided equally to all Americans.

~Benjamin Jealous

Let us invest less and less in war and tax cuts for the richest 1 percent, and more and more in jobs and schools for the other 99 percent.
