To me love is passionate, it is honest, and it is selfless. Love is willing to completely give up your life for someone, to make sacrifices and put them first.

~Benjamin Stone

Vulnerability isn't a bad thing. Everyone's vulnerable and it only makes you human.

~Benjamin Stone

If you lack vulnerability then you are not being truthful to yourself.

~Benjamin Stone

Successful people inspire me, and I don't mean just in their career but people who have amazing families, or who have made a difference, or followed their dreams.

~Benjamin Stone

To me love is passionate, it is honest, and it is selfless.

~Benjamin Stone

As an actor in-between jobs, it can be hard to stay motivated when you feel like your future is always in someone else's hands. You are always waiting for someone to look at you and say "YES."

~Benjamin Stone

One of the most empowering things about being a self-employed actor is also one of the hardest things; I get to set my own goals.

~Benjamin Stone

The best thing about the world today is that everyone is connected and you can go online and quickly find people all over the world doing incredible things.

~Benjamin Stone

Being constantly surprised about what nature can create, that inspires me beyond belief.

~Benjamin Stone

I am very lucky to live in California, which is not only filled with very entrepreneurial people who don't wait around for success, but who make their own.

~Benjamin Stone

A lack of direction and meaning can leave you empty.

~Benjamin Stone

Naturally animals are very special to me, especially dogs.

~Benjamin Stone

I am fortunate to have a lot of love in my life. I love my family, I love my dog, I love my close friends, and I absolutely love my incredible girlfriend.

~Benjamin Stone

I guess at it's very core love is connection that just makes so much sense you wonder how you used to live before you were lucky enough to experience it.

~Benjamin Stone

You can't truly love someone if you also love yourself, just as you can't love someone if you are not honest with them and they with you - otherwise it's just infatuation and desire.

~Benjamin Stone

People who have come from nothing and started their own business or opened up a whole new niche in a particular industry, they truly inspire me.

~Benjamin Stone

I don't think I can get anywhere near to fully describing what love is.

~Benjamin Stone

Getting up early and setting myself daily targets, even outside of acting, keeps me active and motivated in general and thus happier, which I hope translates into my personality and my work.

~Benjamin Stone

Science is my JAM. I am very excited to see where science and technological advancements will take us in the next few decades.

~Benjamin Stone

It's healthy to periodically self examine your life, your goals, your relationships, and ask yourself honestly, am I happy? Am I on the right track?

~Benjamin Stone

My career goals generally remain the same, but my short time goals constantly change either because I've reached them all or they no longer fit into my current strategy.

~Benjamin Stone

I can't stand being stagnant. Every day is a new opportunity to achieve something, even on a small scale.
