It is almost impossible to watch a sunset and not dream.

~Bernard Williams

There was never a night or a problem that could defeat sunrise or hope.

~Bernard Williams

Man never made any material as resilient as the human spirit.

~Bernard Williams

There is no psychiatrist in the world like a puppy licking your face.

~Bernard Williams

This is the end of the day, but soon there will be a new day.

~Bernard Williams

If we try and fail, we have temporary disappointments. But if we do not try at all, we have permanent regrets.

~Bernard Williams

Life is supposed to be a series of peaks and valleys. The secret is to keep the valleys from becoming Grand Canyons.

~Bernard Williams

Women have a favorite room, men a favorite chair.

~Bernard Williams

If a June night could talk, it would probably boast it invented romance.

~Bernard Williams

We may pass violets looking for roses. We may pass contentment looking for victory.

~Bernard Williams

Talent is a flame. Genius is a fire.

~Bernard Williams

We grow a little every time we do not take advantage of somebody's weakness.

~Bernard Williams

Laziness has many disguises. Soon "winter doldrums" will become "spring fever."

~Bernard Williams

We must escape our illusions of correctness to understand the actions and beliefs of others.

~Bernard Williams

The day the Lord created hope was probably the same day he created Spring.

~Bernard Williams

The average man will bristle if you say his father was dishonest, but he will brag a little if he discovers that his great-grandfather was a Pirate.

~Bernard Williams

Few things move as quietly as the future.

~Bernard Williams

Unsolicited advice is the junk mail of life.

~Bernard Williams

Sooner or later we all quote our mothers.

~Bernard Williams

I like the word "indolence." It makes my laziness seem classy.

~Bernard Williams

Tranquility is like quicksilver. The harder you grab for it, the less likely you will grasp it.

~Bernard Williams

Few things are as democratic as a snowstorm.

~Bernard Williams

No symphony orchestra ever played music like a two-year-old girl laughing with a puppy.

~Bernard Williams

What a strange world this would be if we all had the same sense of humor.

~Bernard Williams

You are mature when you know what is foolhardy and what is courage.

~Bernard Williams

A friend is a lot of things, but a critic isn't.

~Bernard Williams

September tries its best to have us forget summer.

~Bernard Williams

A half-truth is usually less than half of that.

~Bernard Williams

An extravagance is something that your spirit thinks is a necessity.

~Bernard Williams

People who say, 'Let the chips fall where they may,' usually figure they will not be hit by a chip.

~Bernard Williams

Books had instant replay long before televised sports.

~Bernard Williams

Americans are optimists. They hope they'll be wealthy someday - and they're positive they can get one more brushful of paint out of an empty can.

~Bernard Williams

Ideas are like wandering sons. They show up when you least expect them.
