I wondered if a blessing is still a blessing if it lasts for only a little while.

~Bette Greene

Keep in mind that life produces no maestros, only students of varying shades of ineptitude.

~Bette Greene

I believe that love is better than hate. And that there is more nobility in building a chicken coop than in destroying a cathedral.

~Bette Greene

What is genius, anyway, if it isn't the ability to give an adequate response to a great challenge?

~Bette Greene

The world is not a rational place.

~Bette Greene

Even if you forget everything else I want you to always remember that you are a person of value, and you have a friend who loved you enough to give you his most valued possession.

~Bette Greene

Look inside yourself and you'll find a world of things (a world of your own experiences) worth writing about.

~Bette Greene

When people's emotions are involved they don't want to listen.

~Bette Greene

It seems to me that a man who is incapable of humor is capable of cruelty.

~Bette Greene

Fun, like champagne bubbles, can't completely fill you up.

~Bette Greene

Longevity can't be the only test of love.

~Bette Greene

Experiencing life through a book can help you learn without all the pain of going through the experiences first hand.

~Bette Greene

I love Arkansas but I think Arkansas has its share of unlit minds.

~Bette Greene

Like the Bible tells us, when a man will lay down his life for a friend, well, then there ain't no greater love in this here world than that.

~Bette Greene

And marking off time struck me as something like counting empty spaces—spaces you know can't ever be filled.

~Bette Greene

I was hooked on writing. I mean, where else can you get paid for sticking your nose into somebody else's business?

~Bette Greene

What do you know about sooner or later? Is a moment only a moment when you're in pain?

~Bette Greene

Why is it I'm always so quick to believe that people are thinking...believing the worst about me?

~Bette Greene

And taking care of somebody else made me feel good. Like discovering you're more than you thought you were. More even than you hoped to be.

~Bette Greene

A person's got to think, otherwise that person's no better than a trained seal balancing a ball on his nose. If only that seal could think, he'd know he was making a thousand children laugh.
