We are constantly protecting the male ego, and it's a disservice to men. If a man has any sensitivity or intelligence, he wants to get the straight scoop from his girlfriend.

~Betty Dodson

I consider myself a lesbian, but I'm a bisexual lesbian.

~Betty Dodson

Masturbation is our first and natural form of sexual activity and if that's inhibited or damaged, then we suffer for the rest of our lives.

~Betty Dodson

The clitoris is the female sex organ, and the fact that we aren't told that when we were small children is devastating. We grow up with no information about the pleasure center of our body.

~Betty Dodson

We all have our individual romantic or idealistic ideas. To get information that masturbation is our basic form of sex is hard, because who wants to admit they're masturbating?

~Betty Dodson

Sacrifice, sacrifice, sacrifice! That's the condition of the female. Women have been conditioned to sacrifice for centuries.

~Betty Dodson

The person whose face is between your legs is gonna get lockjaw.

~Betty Dodson

I used to think masturbation was not really sex because it only involved me. That's a very limited view of human sexuality, and it isn't going to work for women.

~Betty Dodson

If you go out to dinner with someone, you find out what they prefer in food. We ought to be able to have a conversation to find out what people prefer when it comes to sex.

~Betty Dodson

The powers that be understand that sexual freedom or liberation with any kind of joy means they are losing control.

~Betty Dodson

A monogamous marriage and family is what some women want - but not all of us. We are mostly doing serial monogamy anyway.

~Betty Dodson

When I do documentaries, my best information ends up on the cutting-room floor. People have trouble dealing with sexual honesty.

~Betty Dodson

Men are hung up on breasts. They're looking at the titty dinner. It's pathetic.

~Betty Dodson

The media only wants to get the view of the flaming radicals because they make better copy than those of us who are more sensible. I'm a feminist and I think I've done a lot of good.

~Betty Dodson

It's very hard for a man to ask questions about sex. The smart ones do.

~Betty Dodson

The first thing the male establishment wants to control is uterus and birth. You might call it womb envy. But even worse is the fact we are still using the male model of sexual response for women.

~Betty Dodson

Instead of being a well-known painter, I became everybody's favorite dirty joke. Come to think of it, teaching masturbation skills is pretty weird.

~Betty Dodson

The women working at abortion clinics are really on the front lines and the true heroes of feminism.

~Betty Dodson

If you tell a child "Don't touch yourself there," they will deal with some kind of sexual problem from then on, to one degree or other.

~Betty Dodson

Art is all about becoming a name, a brand; it isn't based on talent or creativity.

~Betty Dodson

We are at war with men, and most women don't even know it.

~Betty Dodson

Women don't run around saying, "Oh, I took a Bodysex workshop, and I had so much fun, and Betty Dodson taught us how to blah blah." They come, they go, and I rarely hear from them again.

~Betty Dodson

I'm fully aware had I stayed with my art, I would be well known, respected and most likely rich.

~Betty Dodson

It was easy to leave the art world after I found out that it was just another corporation. When they told me I had to create the same thing, I rebelled.

~Betty Dodson

Although my Dad was a talented calligrapher and both of my younger brothers were successful, I was the first one in my family to graduate from high school.

~Betty Dodson

The galleries are simply corporations in the art world - "Here's a million dollars for this latest piece of crap" - but I'm not about to go along with the gallery system.

~Betty Dodson

I think I should get the Nobel Peace Prize before I die for ending the war between the sexes.

~Betty Dodson

I consider the 70s to be the youth of old age. So all you women out there who are afraid of getting older, just keep your orgasms in place, eat a lot of vegetables, take exercise, and you'll be fine.

~Betty Dodson

It's just blind luck when a woman is born into a wealthy family and attends the best colleges and joins top sororities.
