You are what you do. If you do boring, stupid, monotonous work, chances are you'll end up boring, stupid, and monotonous.

~Bob Black

I'm the out-of-court jester who won't settle, I up the vigilante, I'm a law unto myself but break it anyway! I made a forced landing on the Moebius Strip and now I want to know, which side are you on?

~Bob Black

People aren't as stupid as the politicians think. More and more of us are laughing off our 'civic duty' to vote, rejecting the role of compulsory constituent.

~Bob Black

The reinvention of daily life means marching off the edge of our maps

~Bob Black

Liberals say we should end employment discrimination. I say we should end employment.

~Bob Black

Looking for work sounds almost as bad as finding it.

~Bob Black

I call for a collective adventure in generalized joy and freely interdependent exuberance.

~Bob Black

Work is the source of nearly all the misery in the world.

~Bob Black

Law is any application for the official use of coercion that succeeds.

~Bob Black

Leisure is non-work for the sake of work. Leisure is the time spent recovering from work and in the frenzied but hopeless attempt to forget about work.

~Bob Black

Cleansed of its leftist residues, anarchy - anarchism minus Marxism - will be free to get better at being what it is.

~Bob Black

A [typical] worker is a part-time slave.

~Bob Black

Play is always voluntary. What might otherwise be play is work if it's forced.
