The politically correct crowd is tolerant of all viewpoints, except those they disagree with.

~Bobby Jindal

In my home State of Louisiana, several institutions of higher education have been impacted by both Hurricanes Katrina and Rita, literally dozens across the entire State.

~Bobby Jindal

Finally, we should help developing nations like China and India curb their exponentially increasing consumption of oil and natural gas, which is driving world prices higher.

~Bobby Jindal

Unfortunately, we are finding the bureaucratic inefficiencies and red tape have a tendency to slow the efforts of individuals and communities working to rebuild.

~Bobby Jindal

Immigration without assimilation is an invasion.

~Bobby Jindal

We should increase our development of alternative fuels, taking advantage of renewable resources, like using corn and sugar to produce ethanol or soybeans to produce biodiesel.

~Bobby Jindal

America didn't create religious liberty. Religious liberty created America.

~Bobby Jindal

When I ran for Congress I promised to help make health care affordable again.

~Bobby Jindal

We must stop being the stupid party.

~Bobby Jindal

Hillary Clinton, President Obama, they're trying to turn the American dream into the European nightmare. We need to rescue the country from socialism.

~Bobby Jindal

As everyone in Louisiana knows, there was often no communication or coordination between the state and federal government in the aftermath of Hurricanes Katrina and Rita.

~Bobby Jindal

Here's an idea: How about just 'Americans?' That has a nice ring to it, if you ask me. Placing undue emphasis on our 'separateness' is a step backward. Bring back the melting pot.

~Bobby Jindal

When a law enforcement officer apprehends an illegal immigrant, it makes no sense to simply release that individual who has been breaking our laws with no threat of sanction or penalty.

~Bobby Jindal

The threat of terrorism is great and with today's porous borders, someone could bring a biological weapon into our country or sneak a dirty bomb across unmanned portions of our borders.

~Bobby Jindal

Containment is a strategy for losers! But as General George S. Patton famously observed, Americans play to win all the time. Americans don't play to lose.

~Bobby Jindal

The shell fishing industry represents a major part of Louisiana's economy.

~Bobby Jindal

India, in particular, is looking to develop nuclear power for domestic, commercial use, and we should work with them. This is a good deal for both countries.

~Bobby Jindal

In the aftermath of September 11th, it is critical to secure our borders.

~Bobby Jindal

We need to break our dependency on foreign sources of oil, which leaves us at the mercy of foreign powers. To do that, we should increase domestic energy production.

~Bobby Jindal

Members of Congress must live according to the same laws as everyone else.

~Bobby Jindal

As we embrace the American dream and the freedoms it represents, we must also ensure that those who wish to enjoy those freedoms become a part of our society and learn to speak our language.

~Bobby Jindal

My Christian faith teaches me marriage is between man and a woman. I'm not evolving with the polls. I'm not changing like Hillary Clinton or Barack Obama.

~Bobby Jindal

Thirty percent of the Nation's energy comes off the gulf coast.

~Bobby Jindal

To succeed, we have to be the party of change, we have to root out corruption in our own ranks and we have to be the party of solutions.

~Bobby Jindal

America's military is the best in the world, but this president [Barack Obama] is hollowing out our military. We need a commander in chief that believes in American exceptionalism again.

~Bobby Jindal

The Nation needs to take a new approach to our energy problems.

~Bobby Jindal

The recent riots in France demonstrate the problem European countries face where second and third generation immigrants still do not consider themselves French, German, or English.

~Bobby Jindal

We want to rescue the American dream.

~Bobby Jindal

I think viewing people by the color of their skin is one of the dumbest ways to view people.

~Bobby Jindal

I'm tired of hyphenated Americans.

~Bobby Jindal

Higher taxes still does not create prosperity for all. And, more government still does not grow jobs.

~Bobby Jindal

Who among us would ask our children for a loan, so we could spend money we do not have on things we do not need?

~Bobby Jindal

The Republican party does have a lot of work to do. But changing our principles is not a winning strategy. We need to modernize, not moderate.

~Bobby Jindal

When the Republican Party is no longer the party of fiscal conservatism then clearly I would argue that we've lost our way.

~Bobby Jindal

I am tired with hyphenated Americans! We are not Indian-Americans, or African-Americans.

~Bobby Jindal

Please deal with the Radical Islamic Threat today.

~Bobby Jindal

It has become fashionable in Washington to argue that Obamacare cannot be reversed. That is nonsense. It's a fight worth waging, and a fight which can be won.

~Bobby Jindal

We've got to stop being the stupid party. It's time for a new Republican Party that talks like adults.

~Bobby Jindal

I remember when TV networks believed in the First Amendment. It is a messed up situation when Miley Cyrus gets a laugh, and Phil Robertson gets suspended.

~Bobby Jindal

America is the most compassionate country in the entire world. We do more for folks around this world. And that's the nature of the American people.

~Bobby Jindal

We don't measure our people's success in how they're doing in government. We measure how they are doing in the real world and the private sector economy.

~Bobby Jindal

If I were to run for president, it's because I believe in our country.

~Bobby Jindal

We need a doer, not a talker.

~Bobby Jindal

If we want to save some money, let's just get rid of the court.

~Bobby Jindal

I'm not running to manage the decline of this great country. I'm running to make real changes in D.C.

~Bobby Jindal

I'm running [ for presidency] because we need to take our country back.

~Bobby Jindal

I'm not for amnesty. I've never been for amnesty, will never be for amnesty.

~Bobby Jindal

Peace through strength works. We've got the greatest military in the world. I want them to dominate any potential conflict.

~Bobby Jindal

The gist of what Mayor Giuliani said - that the President has shown himself to be completely unable to speak the truth about the nature of the threats from these ISIS terrorists - is true.

~Bobby Jindal

My background is in health care.

~Bobby Jindal

There has been failure, particularly with the effort to protect our coast and our marsh. And that was the biggest topic of discussion in a very frank meeting we had with the president.

~Bobby Jindal

I'm not worried about where Barack Obama is from. I'm worried about where he's going.

~Bobby Jindal

It's not controversial to say that human activity is contributing in some way. The question is how serious that is.

~Bobby Jindal

People say both Obama and I have trouble laughing at ourselves. We can't laugh at ourselves. That would be racist!

~Bobby Jindal

I'm not running for president to be somebody, I'm running for president to do something!

~Bobby Jindal

The Obama presidency, and liberalism in general, are based on not trusting the American people - a belief that big government is better for people.

~Bobby Jindal

I've got the courage to apply our conservative principles. I can't do it alone. With your help, with God's grace, we can save the idea of America before it's too late.

~Bobby Jindal

A job for your family, a paycheck in your mailbox - they're the ultimate proof that your state is doing things right!

~Bobby Jindal

Here's what I've found in Louisiana: The voters want to know what you believe, what you stand for, and what you plan to do, not what shade your skin is.

~Bobby Jindal

The day that we've been fearing is upon us.

~Bobby Jindal
