I've never had a stylist, and I've always chosen my own clothes.

~Bonnie Wright

I really respond to putting myself out of my own depth and finding my feet.

~Bonnie Wright

It is extremely important to me that the social and environmental issues associated with the production of fashion clothing are addressed.

~Bonnie Wright

In my family we've always been into ethical stuff and recycling.

~Bonnie Wright

Sometimes you need to put your own characteristics into the actor, and you take different things from the character that you admire - sometimes you can't see the boundaries anymore.

~Bonnie Wright

I guess I've always been really strong minded about what I wear; I've never followed what other people consider fashionable or what styles are happening at the time.

~Bonnie Wright

I like Destiny's Child.

~Bonnie Wright

I haven't ever felt I've had to divide my 'actress' life from the rest of my life.

~Bonnie Wright

I think sometimes when you begin to examine things - like yourself - suddenly you can just freak out and not want to go any further.

~Bonnie Wright

I have had a few people recognise me in public. But I wouldn't like everybody to recognise me. I can still walk across the street and not be noticed.

~Bonnie Wright

I think when you're younger, you need to socialize and be with people your own age.

~Bonnie Wright

I think everyone sometimes feels intimidated by themselves when they see themselves on the screen.

~Bonnie Wright

Cuts of clothes and shapes of clothes are really important.

~Bonnie Wright

I like France quite a lot, and I like Italy.

~Bonnie Wright

I think when I was quite younger, I was always quite a tomboy.

~Bonnie Wright

So many girls have become famous for literally nothing - other than falling out of clubs in shocking clothing or going out with a different person every week.

~Bonnie Wright

When you start so young working, you build a hunger for acting, working, and a busy life.

~Bonnie Wright

I've always loved the dialogue that Pedro Almodovar writes.

~Bonnie Wright

We chat about clothes and if we're going on the red carpet we definitely talk about what we are going to wear.

~Bonnie Wright

When I put something on, and I stand up much straighter, that's when I love to wear clothes.

~Bonnie Wright

I'll be out shopping, and all it takes is for one person to recognise me and it can get scary.
