I have as much chance of becoming Prime Minister as of being decapitated by a frisbee or of finding Elvis.

~Boris Johnson

It is just flipping unbelievable. He is a mixture of Harry Houdini and a greased piglet. He is barely human in his elusiveness. Nailing Blair is like trying to pin jelly to a wall.

~Boris Johnson

If gay marriage was OK ... then I saw no reason in principle why a union should not be consecrated between three men, as well as two men; or indeed three men and a dog.

~Boris Johnson

My speaking style was criticised by no less an authority than Arnold Schwarzenegger. It was a low moment, my friends, to have my rhetorical skills denounced by a monosyllabic Austrian cyborg.

~Boris Johnson

It is possible to have a pretty good life and career being a leech and a parasite in the media world, gadding about from TV studio to TV studio, writing inconsequential pieces and having a good time.

~Boris Johnson

Voting Tory will cause your wife to have bigger breasts and increase your chances of owning a BMW M3.

~Boris Johnson

My policy on cake is pro having it and pro eating it.

~Boris Johnson

The only reason I wouldn't go to some parts of New York is the real risk of meeting Donald Trump.

~Boris Johnson

My ideal world is, we're there, we're in the EU, trying to make it better.

~Boris Johnson

There is absolutely no one, apart from yourself, who can prevent you, in the middle of the night, from sneaking down to tidy up the edges of that hunk of cheese at the back of the fridge.

~Boris Johnson

In 1904, 20 per cent of journeys were made by bicycle in London. I want to see a figure like that again. If you can't turn the clock back to 1904, what's the point of being a Conservative?

~Boris Johnson

I am supporting David Cameron purely out of cynical self-interest.

~Boris Johnson

The difference between Hitler's speeches and Churchill's speeches was that Hitler made you think he could do anything; Churchill made you think you could do anything.

~Boris Johnson

The meat in the sausage has got to be Conservative.

~Boris Johnson

I'd like thousands of schools as good as the one I went to, Eton.

~Boris Johnson

I think I was once given cocaine but I sneezed so it didn't go up my nose. In fact, it may have been icing sugar.

~Boris Johnson

I lead a life of blameless domesticity and always have done.

~Boris Johnson

Yes, cannabis is dangerous, but no more than other perfectly legal drugs. It's time for a rethink, and the Tory party - the funkiest, most jiving party on Earth - is where it's happening.

~Boris Johnson

I want you to know that I have nothing against Orlando, though you are, of course, far more likely to get shot or robbed there than in London.

~Boris Johnson

But if people want to swim in the Thames, if they want to take their lives into their own hands, then they should be able to do so with all the freedom and exhilaration of our woad-painted ancestors.

~Boris Johnson

Hitler showed the evil that could be done by the art of rhetoric. Churchill showed how it could help to save humanity.

~Boris Johnson

London is a fantastic creator of jobs - but many of these jobs are going to people who don't originate in this country.

~Boris Johnson

I would ban sweets from school - but this pressure to bring in healthy food is too much.

~Boris Johnson

My chances of being PM are about as good as the chances of finding Elvis on Mars, or my being reincarnated as an olive.

~Boris Johnson

The Lib Dems are not just empty. They are a void within a vacuum surrounded by a vast inanition.

~Boris Johnson

I love tennis with a passion. I challenged Boris Becker to a match once and he said he was up for it but he never called back. I bet I could make him run around.

~Boris Johnson

Volunteering is also now more crucial than ever in helping people find work.

~Boris Johnson

The dreadful truth is that when people come to see their MP, they have run out of better ideas.

~Boris Johnson

My friends, as I have discovered myself, there are no disasters, only opportunities. And, indeed, opportunities for fresh disasters.

~Boris Johnson

The next Tory leader would have to unify his party and ensure that Britain stood tall in the world.

~Boris Johnson

I cant remember what my line on drugs is. Whats my line on drugs?

~Boris Johnson

The Geiger-counter of Olympomania is going to go zoinK off the scale.

~Boris Johnson

Since January 1993 there have been 27 other countries not in the EU that have done better than the UK at exporting goods into the single market.

~Boris Johnson

I think it's absolutely amazing and how the Remain side have the cheek to come and tell us that we improve our security by staying in this organisation I do not understand.

~Boris Johnson

The job of mayor of London is unbelievably taxing, particularly in the run-up to the Olympics.

~Boris Johnson

Humanity would have plunged into a new dark age of absolutely frightening and appalling characteristics without Churchill.

~Boris Johnson

Nothing excites compassion, in friend and foe alike, as much as the sight of you ker-splonked on the Tarmac with your propeller buried six feet under.

~Boris Johnson

Life isn't like coursework, baby. It's one damn essay crisis after another.

~Boris Johnson

Some people think that it [Brexit] is the end of the world. It's not. On the contrary, it's a massive opportunity for this country.

~Boris Johnson

All the people I talk to, increasingly, can see that the emperor has got no clothes. The case for leaving [the EU] is now overwhelming.

~Boris Johnson

It is easy to make promises - it is hard work to keep them.

~Boris Johnson

Try as I might, I could not look at an overhead projection of a growth profit matrix and stay conscious.

~Boris Johnson

We should celebrate immigrants and everything they do for our country.

~Boris Johnson

I think it'd be disgraceful if a chap wasn't allowed to have a bit of fun in Las Vegas. The real scandal would be if you went to Vegas and you didn't misbehave in some trivial way.

~Boris Johnson

I want to win and I want to be in office.

~Boris Johnson

If we judged everybody by the stupid, unguarded things they blurt out to their nearest and dearest, then we wouldn't ever get anywhere.

~Boris Johnson

I am hoping very much to get re-elected but it is going to be a tough fight.

~Boris Johnson

So I'm definitely in favour of stimulating the dynamic wealth creation sectors of the economy.

~Boris Johnson

You are part of our Great British family.

~Boris Johnson

The volunteering spirit of Londoners is part of what makes this the best big city on earth.

~Boris Johnson

I want London to be a competitive, dynamic place to come to work.

~Boris Johnson

As a Scot Gordon Brown will find it hard to convince people in England he should be prime minister.

~Boris Johnson

When my father began his work in the 1970s it was a very different EU. I pay tribute to what he did. But it has now become a very different proposition: the United States of Europe.

~Boris Johnson

I'm afraid Sadiq Khan is completely wrong. The European Court of Justice is the supreme legal authority in our country.

~Boris Johnson

I'm a one-nation Tory.

~Boris Johnson

The crucial thing is to look in an informed way at what's going on. Look at the way in which we are forced by our imbalanced system to push away people who might contribute mightily to the NHS.

~Boris Johnson

Our friends in America will be at the front of the queue for trade deals.

~Boris Johnson

Can I say anything good about Ken Livingstone? A long time ago he did some good things, but I can't now remember what any of them were.

~Boris Johnson

This is our chance to build a Britain where everyone benefits from the success of the economy.

~Boris Johnson

This is not a time to quail, it is not a crisis, nor should we see it as an excuse for wobbling or self-doubt. But it is a moment for hope...

~Boris Johnson

He is like some sherry-crazed old dowager who has lost the family silver at roulette, and who now decides to double up by betting the house as well.

~Boris Johnson

I think the risks that people see of terrorism are incredibly important but we are very confident we have got the right people on it and the risks have been minimised.

~Boris Johnson

I have not been more robust towards female rather than male assembly members and I do not believe I have been remotely sexist.

~Boris Johnson

[People] are woefully underestimating this country and what it can achieve.

~Boris Johnson

I'm no communist. I'm a tax cutting Conservative. But I want a capitalism that is fairer to forgotten people.

~Boris Johnson

This is a super masticated subject, and it is time to spit it out.

~Boris Johnson

We did everything we could to break down barriers that restrain poorest.

~Boris Johnson

It just happens I write fast and always have done.

~Boris Johnson

I love swimming in rivers, and well remember once jumping in at Chiswick.

~Boris Johnson

Some people play the piano, some do Sudoku, some watch television, some people go out to dinner parties. I write books.

~Boris Johnson

We celebrate the contribution of people who have come to this country to make it better.

~Boris Johnson

Never in my life did I think I would be congratulated by Mick Jagger for achieving anything.

~Boris Johnson

London is the sporting capital of the world. I say to the Chinese and I say to the world, ping pong is coming home.

~Boris Johnson

Dark forces dragged me away from the keyboard, swirling forces of irresistible intensity and power.
