Intention is one of the most powerful forces there is. What you mean when you do a thing will always determine the outcome. The law creates the world.

~Brenna Yovanoff

The treachery of demons is nothing compared to the betrayal of an angel.

~Brenna Yovanoff

I fell headfirst into a sinkhole of pretty things, and the world inside your eyelids is just as big as the one outside.

~Brenna Yovanoff

All great acts are ruled by intention. What you mean is what you get.

~Brenna Yovanoff

You presume to name those who have no name. We are pandemonium and disaster. We are the dancing, gibbering horror of the world.

~Brenna Yovanoff

All my life, I've understood the nature of where I come from, but I never thought it might be wicked until now.

~Brenna Yovanoff

The world is full of unused corners.

~Brenna Yovanoff

The hours spool out like a ribbon I can't find the end of.

~Brenna Yovanoff

The fact is, the contest has always been invulnerability, and even when you win, you still lose.

~Brenna Yovanoff

I wanted it in the way you sometimes want to jump into very cold water, even though you know it won't feel good. I wanted to go numb. To see what it felt like to be someone else.

~Brenna Yovanoff

That was the thing about being bereaved. People were overcome with sympathy. They did things for you without even considering whether or not it was the right thing to do.

~Brenna Yovanoff

It's strange, but seeing something broken is somehow worse when you can tell that it used to be beautiful.

~Brenna Yovanoff

Sometimes it doesn't matter how dark the world gets. You can be saved by the smallest thing.

~Brenna Yovanoff

People make decisions, and maybe you don't always agree, but those choices are still their own.

~Brenna Yovanoff

The things I had were mine and some of them were broken, but they were real. They were so very far from nothing.

~Brenna Yovanoff

The simple truth is that you can understand the way you are. You can know and love and hate it. You can blame it, resent it, and nothing changes. In the end, you're just a part of it.

~Brenna Yovanoff

People do that sometimes. Change.

~Brenna Yovanoff

Once, my mother told a whole host of angels that she'd rather die than go back to a man she didn't love.
