I take a baths all the time. I'll put on some music and burn some incense and just sit in the tub and think, Wow, life is great right now.

~Brian Austin Green

As of right now, I'm still waiting to meet Halle Berry. And she is single.

~Brian Austin Green

All I can say is that I've had too many people in the hip-hop industry really like what I'm doing. I know where I'm coming from, and the album speaks for itself.

~Brian Austin Green

It's just a fact of life. Everybody grows up and goes through changes, and our audience has seen it all.

~Brian Austin Green

Oh, there's tons of resentment. That's normal. I can't control that, and I don't worry about it.

~Brian Austin Green

If somebody doesn't have enough judgment to be able to look at plastic surgery and realize how phony it is, then they can't be helped.

~Brian Austin Green

James Brown was one of the first artists who found four bars that he liked and played them the entire way through, and then he just added to it vocally.

~Brian Austin Green

It was really like waking up one morning and going, Wow, I enjoy being with this person more than anybody else in my life, and it just turned out to be mutual.

~Brian Austin Green

I did some commercials and a couple of B movies, then a few pilots that didn't go anywhere. Eventually I did the pilot for Beverly Hills, 90210. The rest is history.

~Brian Austin Green

I started promoting clubs when I was 15. I was doing what is considered the normal collegiate stuff when I was a lot younger. I was holding my own, but doing a lot of crazy things.

~Brian Austin Green

I'm just saying, it's got to be about something more than just body parts when you're with somebody.

~Brian Austin Green

I like women who are really strong and were brought up to be comfortable with themselves and respect themselves.

~Brian Austin Green

I may see somebody in a club one night and go, Wow, she's the most attractive girl I've seen in a long time. Then I'll see her the next night and be like, Oh no, I don't think so.

~Brian Austin Green

I was three years old. I was messing with my grandparents' dog in Las Vegas, and he decided to pick me up by my head and run around the backyard with me.

~Brian Austin Green

Going out is such a hassle. The singles club scene where you sit down, talk, get to know each other, hang out-it's such a big ordeal.

~Brian Austin Green

My parents love each other. They work through their problems.

~Brian Austin Green

The worst thing you can do is to put your life aside for someone else.

~Brian Austin Green

I can't just sit around and do nothing. Although, I can sit on the couch sometimes and just watch movies.

~Brian Austin Green

I've just had some of the worst situations with the most beautiful girls, who I just could not stand talking to anymore. The physical only lasts for so long.

~Brian Austin Green

I'm a facist about spoilers. I'm the biggest pain in the ass to the marketing and promotions department. If I had my way, the commercials would be 30 seconds of black with a few words on them.

~Brian Austin Green

We are not here to just exist; but to find the strength to co-exist.

~Brian Austin Green

I'm sometimes critical about other artists who come out with something different until maybe I hear the music. If the music is there, then they did their job, and I'll enjoy the CD.
