I was home-schooled, was always very close with my mom and was very straight-laced and square. I was never the rebellious one, and I never threw hissy fits.

~Brie Larson

I was listening to a lot of Norwegian black metal and death metal. There's a great history to Norwegian black metal. That music is very dark and violent, but it's also beautiful.

~Brie Larson

I'm learning with the older that I get that some feelings are just universal and that I'm not the only one who hates their hair or their life at times.

~Brie Larson

It's really hard to see yourself and to recognize that you are a human being like everybody else. You just think everybody's judging you.

~Brie Larson

Sometimes I laugh with my parents, and sometimes I yell at them, and both are therapeutic.

~Brie Larson

For me, the dumbest rule is that you can't chew gum in school. For some reason, chewing gum for me gets my brain going.

~Brie Larson

I usually get my lyrics when I let my mind wander, when you're not really awake, but not yet fully asleep. I keep an open notebook by my bed and then just write whatever comes to me.

~Brie Larson

I want more awareness of humanity in this world.

~Brie Larson

I'm so used to swimming with the piranhas. And they're really not that bad.

~Brie Larson

It's very scary to allow the world to see you.

~Brie Larson

I have a sister and her name is Mimsy, like from "Alice in Wonderland," so we've got some strange names in our family.

~Brie Larson

Surrounding myself with women of different backgrounds and on different paths and in different stages of their lives has become so valuable to me.

~Brie Larson

I think the interesting aspect of life is that you're always sort of in the middle. You're never the youngest and you're never the oldest.

~Brie Larson

I feel like the movie is reminding people of who they are, which is what I think all great art does.

~Brie Larson

Clothing totally changes my perception of how I feel about myself depending on what it is that I'm wearing.

~Brie Larson

It [the film industry] is not a glamorous industry. It's really, really hard, and you get told all the time, "You're not this, you're not that," and so you have to find a center.

~Brie Larson

I'm looking for something to laugh over. After long enough, your body just needs to keep the hydration. You can't keep crying it out.

~Brie Larson

I was home-schooled 'cause I wanted to be an actor. I would spend all day watching movies, trying to get through calculus.

~Brie Larson

I think that usually I'm just drawn to something that's different from something that I've done previously. Whatever makes me feel something. Whatever makes me excited and connected to it.

~Brie Larson

We're in a different time right now, and I think we're ready to see a different type of female hero.

~Brie Larson

I have a lot of different influences. Everything from Maroon 5, Gwen Stefani, The Clash, Kanye West - just a lot of different artists.

~Brie Larson

I started acting in second grade - my first role was in the Thanksgiving play. I was the Indian chasing the turkey. All the other mom's encouraged my mom to get me into acting after that.

~Brie Larson

I was 3 when I told my mom that I knew what my dharma was and that I wanted to be an actor.

~Brie Larson

I think that fashion is very important for me and I think that it's a wonderful means of self-expression.

~Brie Larson

You know how it is when you put on your best friend's shirt. You feel weird, even if everyone tells you that it looks good. You know that it isn't right.

~Brie Larson

I didn't go to prom - I was homeschooled.

~Brie Larson

I only write about stuff I know. I don't have a lot of experience with boys and stuff so I write a lot of songs about interesting and strange subjects that people wouldn't write songs about.

~Brie Larson

Whenever you want something that you're not going to get, suddenly the whiney 3-year-old comes out in you.

~Brie Larson

Sometimes you pick up on the myth and it's just an accident. I think it comes naturally out of people, and some people are aware of it.

~Brie Larson

I think that, especially as the kids are growing up, they have so much stuff going on in their own lives, they don't really know how much they're looking at their mom as the big problem

~Brie Larson

I had a tough time fitting in, as I guess most kids do. I felt like school was kind of a grand opportunity to figure yourself out and to figure out what you wanted.

~Brie Larson

I really love both acting and singing equally.

~Brie Larson

Instruments fascinate me because they're completely awkward. When I picked up a guitar for the first time I was like, "What is this?" because it's so foreign and unknown.

~Brie Larson

I was the type of person that would show a PowerPoint presentation about why I should do something versus crying and screaming over it.

~Brie Larson

I think more things are becoming socially acceptable. I think that just by having more media, whether that's TV or Internet, we're able to see more things.

~Brie Larson

I think it starts to feel really redundant when you start to do something the same way over and over again. I don't think it's good to become so dependent on a certain writing process.

~Brie Larson

I know how to have a conversation, but I've never done improv. I've never taken improv classes.
