

Bruno Dumont

Quotes

Cinema, Hollywood Films, Depressing, Men, Dignity, Naked, Adventure, Country, Atheist, Sound, Challenges, Light, Instruments, Ideas, Landscape, Needs, Concepts, Interesting, Crude, Suspense

Cinema is all about going back from shadow to light and back and forth: cinema is a place of transgression.

~Bruno Dumont

There is no god. I am an atheist. It is up to us to become God. We need to be elevated, to become saints. God alienates people from themselves.

~Bruno Dumont

Sound creates an intimate effect: the sensation to feel the place. It makes the viewer enter. You have the liberty to hear what you want.

~Bruno Dumont

I like the idea of challenging Hollywood on its own turf. It's important to do that.

~Bruno Dumont

Hollywood films are alienating to the spectator because they use too much dialogue, too much explication and leave no space for the viewer. They depress me.

~Bruno Dumont

Sex becomes violent when you eliminate all the sentiments... voila, it gets crude.

~Bruno Dumont

Good and evil are polar concepts - one can't exist without the other.

~Bruno Dumont

You can't go further than being naked.

~Bruno Dumont

An actor is an instrument. One needs to control them.

~Bruno Dumont

To retain his dignity, an artist must live in opposition. He must be critical of his country. If not, then he is worthless.

~Bruno Dumont

My life is existing. Cinema is certainly not my life

~Bruno Dumont

Matching character and actor is what a good director does.

~Bruno Dumont

Related Links:

- Cinema Quotes
- Hollywood Films Quotes
- Depressing Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Dignity Quotes
- Naked Quotes
- Adventure Quotes
- Country Quotes
- Atheist Quotes
- Sound Quotes
- Challenges Quotes
- Light Quotes
- Instruments Quotes
- Ideas Quotes
- Landscape Quotes
- Needs Quotes
- Concepts Quotes
- Interesting Quotes
- Crude Quotes
- Suspense Quotes