Every human being must find his own way to cope with severe loss, and the only job of a true friend is to facilitate whatever method he chooses.

~Caleb Carr

It is the greatest truth of our age: Information is not knowledge.

~Caleb Carr

I wanted nothing less than to be a fiction writer when I was a kid. If you had told me I would be an artist or novelist when I grew up, I would have laughed in your face

~Caleb Carr

I have a grim outlook on the world, and in particular on humanity. Spent years denying it, but I am very misanthropic. And I live alone on a mountain for a reason.

~Caleb Carr

You want to believe that there's one relationship in life that's beyond betrayal. A relationship that's beyond that kind of hurt. And there isn't.

~Caleb Carr

The defenders of decent society and the disciples of degeneracy are often the same people.

~Caleb Carr

The definition of terrorism is killing civilians with the intent of changing their political affiliation.

~Caleb Carr

People would rather be deceived than have the truth cause them anxiety

~Caleb Carr

Scientists' minds may jump around like amorous toads, but they do seem to accept such behavior in one another.

~Caleb Carr

People are disturbed enough by serial killers, but the whole notion of female violence, particularly maternal violence - the idea of mothers who kill - really unnerves people.

~Caleb Carr

Still, it's an interesting technique-leaving one person behind in order to find her or him somewhere else. And in someone else.

~Caleb Carr

Warfare against civilians must never be answered in kind. Terror must never be answered with terror.

~Caleb Carr

I, like most of my friends, couldn't believe I bought a mountain called Misery Mountain, because it was so appropriate.

~Caleb Carr

Absolutely nothing brings out the killer instinct in the upper crust of New York Society like a charity function.
