The photoshoot glitz and TV studio make-up isn't the real me. I spend most days at home in Bristol in jeans and a T-shirt running around after the kids or shopping in the Co-op.

~Carol Vorderman

I cannot do the piece-of-talking-meat thing, the 'Here's your money, wear a pretty dress and take the cheque.' I'm not made that way. I have to be as good as I can be at whatever I do.

~Carol Vorderman

I would put belly laughing at the top of my highlights list. They always say that laughter is the best medicine.

I loved doing 'Countdown.' I now consider that I was very, very lucky - not just because it was such a wonderful show to do, but because it lasted for so long.

~Carol Vorderman

I was away a lot on 'Countdown' when the children were young and I couldn't have done it without Mum's help. Because she was at home running all of that, I never had to worry about them.

~Carol Vorderman

My bottom is so big it's got its own gravitational field.

~Carol Vorderman

My first marriage was totally unsuitable and shouldn't have happened. It was a whirlwind, rebound thing. I was 23 or 24 - a baby.

~Carol Vorderman

I would never say never to marrying again but for the time being I'm having a great time.

~Carol Vorderman

I'd be happy to stay single now because I've always been in relationships. For the first time ever I can do what I want, when I want, with who I want, without answering to anyone.

~Carol Vorderman

The first couple of days on the detox diet aren't pleasant.

~Carol Vorderman

Turning 50 changed me and I'm far more accepting of myself. I'm not thin, but I am a size 10. I go in at the middle and very much out at the bottom and top. And now I think, 'Well, that's how I am.

~Carol Vorderman

The photoshoot glitz and TV studio make-up isn't the real me.

~Carol Vorderman

I've never once heard my mum shout and she's 83 now. She's incredible. She's very, very happy, slightly eccentric but loves laughing, which I do too.

~Carol Vorderman

I drive a tiny Toyota iQ. I'm quite frugal and often cut my own hair.

~Carol Vorderman

I'm a bit frightened of the idea of a full facelift because, when you look in the mirror, you want to look like yourself.

~Carol Vorderman

The divorce is a regret of mine and my mum thinks that we should have stayed together. He's now remarried so there's no chance of us getting back together.

~Carol Vorderman

Change is one of my favourite words.

~Carol Vorderman

If you're from a poor background, you have to work even harder. But that's what makes you who you are.

~Carol Vorderman

For now I'm building up stories for the retirement home!

~Carol Vorderman

I'm very pleased how my children have turned out.

~Carol Vorderman

Ruby Wax has basically ruined my career. You'll see when you watch the programme. I get more intimate with Ruby than I've ever been with another woman.

~Carol Vorderman

When I get tired, I start eating things that I wouldn't normally crave, like biscuits, because they'll give me a bit of energy to keep going.

~Carol Vorderman

My commitment is to my kids and my mum and I'm having a whale of a time.

~Carol Vorderman

Once you have children it's love without bounds. You would die for them in an instant, without question. How can you better that?

~Carol Vorderman

My father was having an affair with a 16-year-old when Mum was pregnant with me. She found out when I was three weeks old and left, not surprisingly.

~Carol Vorderman

Everything has to be organised for kids in London - you can't just walk three roads to see a friend.

~Carol Vorderman

How you look has become ridiculously disproportionate to what you do. Critics are more harsh on female presenters.

~Carol Vorderman

After 30 years of television, I want to play more than I used to.

~Carol Vorderman

I do need my independence. I have to have that.

~Carol Vorderman

Most people have the wrong idea about me because I've been very private.
