Be stubborn and persist, and trust yourself on what you love. You have to trust what you love.

~Carolee Schneemann

Drawing and masturbation were the first sacred experiences I remember.

~Carolee Schneemann

I'm a painter. I'm still a painter and I will die a painter. Everything that I have developed has to do with extending visual principles off the canvas.

~Carolee Schneemann

In the end, it's always a single person who makes change. But I do think we should try to send artists out into the world and not have them all stick together in the big cities.

~Carolee Schneemann

An older friend once told me, "Life didn't ask for your opinion," which I liked.

~Carolee Schneemann

It's a very difficult age when the forces of time want to destroy us and take us away. They're just snatching people like devils; death comes and grabs each of us.

~Carolee Schneemann

I don't even like the word 'relax'! If I have a partner and we make love a lot, then I'm in a very pure state of being.

~Carolee Schneemann

I'm used to working with neglect and misunderstanding, so this has been really challenging. It's a different psychic realm. The Lion did not land easily here.
