What the hell kind of name is Kitty for a werewolf?

~Carrie Vaughn

All you know is what you think you know, but that isn't always what's real.

~Carrie Vaughn

Then I realized that most of the world's problems stemmed from macho dickheadism, and if I could defeat that I could save the world.

~Carrie Vaughn

A lot of what we're doing here deals with perception rather than truth. Many would argue that reality depends more on the former than the latter.

~Carrie Vaughn

He's a bully. I love bullies. They have such big, shiny red buttons to push.

~Carrie Vaughn

Stupid, fragile mortals.

~Carrie Vaughn

It's only a scratch, don't cut my arm off!

~Carrie Vaughn

I punched to line. "Yes? What?" "Norville. It's Cormac. If you don't change the subject right now, I'm going to have to go over there and have a word with you.

~Carrie Vaughn

I looked at my two wolves. When I knelt they came to me rubbed against me smelling me and I stroked them. "Thank you for believing in me " I said and maybe they understood and maybe they didn't.

~Carrie Vaughn

Hey, Cormac. You ever have to deal with a PMSing werewolf?

~Carrie Vaughn

I imagined calling in to my own radio show: Yeah hi, I'm a werewolf, and I'm stuck in a cabin in the woods with another werewolf and a werewolf hunter.

~Carrie Vaughn

Apparently it was unethical for lawyers to sleep with their clients. This from a man who offered legal representation to assassins.

~Carrie Vaughn

Don't underestimate her ability to talk, it's her superpower.

~Carrie Vaughn

1980's: not a time period but a state of mind.

~Carrie Vaughn

If vampires ever spend less time playing theatrics and living down to their stereotypes, they might actually take over the world someday

~Carrie Vaughn

... We're werewolves. We don't get to judge 'crazy.

~Carrie Vaughn

Cormac interrupted. 'Maybe I oughta shoot you both, put you both out of your misery.

~Carrie Vaughn

You know, I'm sick and tired of people pointing rifles at me.

~Carrie Vaughn

You're lucky to have a friend who will kill for you." So. I once had a friend who died for me, and now one who killed for me. Why didn't I feel lucky?

~Carrie Vaughn

One inch at a time, that was how her father had taught her. You can't do anything but worry about the few inches right in front of you.
