If eating out, order your meal and ask the server to wrap up half of the portion to take home with your for the next day, keeping your portion size in check, and stretching your dollar into two meals.

~Cat Cora

Set yourself up for success from the very beginning and then focus on maintaining that success.

~Cat Cora

Even when you have doubts, take that step. Take chances. Mistakes are never a failure - they can be turned into wisdom.

~Cat Cora

A mother's ability to provide for her children is not always tied to income, but rather to education.

~Cat Cora

I'm gay, and I was born this way.

~Cat Cora

No one knew I was gay growing up but I was bullied. I was a cheerleader, fairly popular and considered straight.

~Cat Cora

I like to abide by the seasons and let the natural flavor in food speak for itself. I use quick cooking techniques of high heat with very little fat, such as quick saute or wok stir-frying.

~Cat Cora

My Mom always cooked healthy. Greek food lends itself to cooking healthy.

~Cat Cora

I know growing up as a young gay person how much you hate yourself, how much you already think you're different.

~Cat Cora

To me, money is the ability to create lifelong experiences for my family and myself, to educate my children and a way to give back to humanity.

~Cat Cora

I think about food all the time. It's my passion; it's my profession. But some people think about food all the time because they're hungry. We can put an end to this if we join forces and lend a hand.

~Cat Cora

I wanted so badly to be straight like my friends. But I couldn't change it any more than I could change having brown eyes. And I knew I would never fit into what kids thought was normal.
