You are not here in the world for yourself. You have been sent here for others. The world is waiting for you!

~Catherine Booth

If we are to better the future we must disturb the present.

~Catherine Booth

There is no improving the future without disturbing the present.

~Catherine Booth

Cast off all bonds of prejudice and custom, and let the love of Christ, which is in you, have free course to run out in all conceivable schemes and methods of labour for the souls of men.

~Catherine Booth

The waters are rising, but so am I. I am not going under, but over.

~Catherine Booth

I don't believe in any religion apart from doing the will of God.

~Catherine Booth

Faith is inseparable from expectations. Where there is real faith, there is always expectation.

~Catherine Booth

The popular gospel of this day, is the laughing-stock of Hell; it dare neither damn the sinner, nor sanctify the saint.

~Catherine Booth

What the law tried to do by a restraining power from without, the gospel does by an inspiring power from within.

~Catherine Booth

What the Lord wants is that you shall go about the business to which

He sets you, not asking for an easy post, nor grumbling at a hard one.

~Catherine Booth

And we find from Church history that the primitive Christians thus understood it; for that women did actually speak and preach amongst them we have indisputable proof.

~Catherine Booth

Do not give way to lowness while you are young. Rise up on the strength of God and resolve to conquer.

~Catherine Booth

We are made for larger ends than Earth can encompass. Oh, let us be true to our exalted destiny.

~Catherine Booth

God forbid that I should ever teach any adaptation of the Gospel. But I contend that we may serve it up in any sort of dish that will induce the people to partake of it

~Catherine Booth

If you are under the dominion of sin, you are yet an utter stranger to the salvation of God.

~Catherine Booth

If Christ cannot supersede the Law, then I am lost, and lost forever.
