I've begun to realize that you can listen to silence and learn from it. It has a quality and a dimension all its own.

~Chaim Potok

Art is whether or not there is a scream in him wanting to get out in a special way.

~Chaim Potok

Something that is yours forever is never precious

~Chaim Potok

Come, let us have some tea and continue to talk about happy things.

~Chaim Potok

Art begins . . . when someone interprets, when someone sees the world through his own eyes. Art happens when what is seen becomes mixed with the inside of the person who is seeing it.

~Chaim Potok

Every man who has shown the world the way to beauty, to true culture, has been a rebel, a 'universal' without patriotism, without home, who has found his people everywhere.

~Chaim Potok

I do not have many things that are meaningful to me. Except my doubts and my fears. And my art.

~Chaim Potok

All beginnings are hard.

~Chaim Potok

I don't work on my Sabbath. I write five-and-a-half or six days a week.

~Chaim Potok

Two people who are true friends are like two bodies with one soul

~Chaim Potok

The span of a man's life - that is nothing. But what a man makes of that span - that is something. A man must make his own meaning for life. Meaning is not automatically given to life.

~Chaim Potok

If a person has a contribution to make, he must make it in public. If learning is not made public, it is a waste.

~Chaim Potok

A man must fill his life with meaning, meaning is not automatically given to life.

~Chaim Potok

Everything has a past. Everything - a person, an object, a word, everything. If you don't know the past, you can't understand the present and plan properly for the future.

~Chaim Potok

A life is measured by how it is lived for the sake of heaven.

~Chaim Potok

No one knows he is fortunate until he becomes unfortunate, that's the way the world is.

~Chaim Potok

A span of life is nothing. But the man who lives that span, he is something. He can fill that tiny span with meaning, so its quality is immeasurable though its quantity may be insignificant.

~Chaim Potok

We need to listen to one another.

~Chaim Potok

Two hundred or more years ago most people on the planet were never aware of any reality other than the one into which they were brought up.

~Chaim Potok

â€ the world will indulge you just so long Asher Lev. Then it will stop. You will simply have to grow accustomed to that truth.

~Chaim Potok

Each generation thinks it fights new battles. But the battles are the same. Only the people are different.

~Chaim Potok

I'm not altogether certain that a fundamentalism of necessity has to argue that it is the only reading of the human experience in order to stay alive.

~Chaim Potok

If I had a plot that was all set in advance, why would I want go through the agony of writing the novel? A novel is a kind of exploration and discovery, for me at any rate.

~Chaim Potok

In other words, Judaism is not Calvinism.

~Chaim Potok

I think most serious writers, certainly in the modern period, use their own lives or the lives of people close to them or lives they have heard about as the raw material for their creativity.

~Chaim Potok

Honest differences of opinion should never be permitted to destroy a friendship.

~Chaim Potok

It is impossible to fuse totally with a culture for which you feel a measure of antagonism.

~Chaim Potok

I think the hardest part of writing is revising. And by that I mean the following: A novelist has to create the piece of marble and then chip away to find the figure in it.

~Chaim Potok

A word is worth one coin, silence is worth two

~Chaim Potok

Seeds must be sown everywhere. Only some will bear fruit. But there would not be the fruit from the few had the many not been sown

~Chaim Potok

A writer is a strange instrument of our species, a harp of sorts, fine-tuned to the dark contradictions of life.

~Chaim Potok

... an artist is a person first. He is an individual. If there is no person, there is no artist.

~Chaim Potok

It's not a pretty world, Papa.' 'I've noticed,' my father said softly.

~Chaim Potok

Art is a person's private vision expressed in aesthetic forms.

~Chaim Potok

It is when you are angry that you must watch how you talk.

~Chaim Potok

But today we become aware of other readings of the human experience very quickly because of the media and the speed with which people travel the planet.

~Chaim Potok

Yes, there is some thought about making a film of My Name Is Asher Lev.

~Chaim Potok

It is inconceivable to me that a million or three million or half a million human beings will think and feel precisely the same way on any single subject.

~Chaim Potok

Oh, it makes a difference, I thought. And if it doesn't make a difference you will make it make a difference.

~Chaim Potok

Each work seems to give me the most trouble at the time I'm working on it.

~Chaim Potok

There is in my work a very strong religious foreground and background. In the later work some of that tends to diminish, but it's certainly present in the early work.

~Chaim Potok

To the extent that I come from a deeply religious tradition and have been contending with those beginnings all of my life - that constitutes the subject of much of my early fiction.

~Chaim Potok

In Russia I went to a great yeshiva, and in America I work in a carnival.

~Chaim Potok

As a species we are always hungry for new knowledge.

~Chaim Potok

I'm constantly revising. Once the book is written and typed, I go through the entire draft again.

~Chaim Potok

I do not know what evil is when it comes to art. I only know what is good art and what is bad art.

~Chaim Potok

I have faith in the Torah. I am not afraid of truth.
