Some people are so poor, all they have is money.

~Chance the Rapper

Everybody's somebody's everything

~Chance the Rapper

Depending on the story that you're telling, you can be relatable to everybody or nobody. I try and tell everybody's story.

~Chance the Rapper

Sometimes the truth don't rhyme, sometime the lies get millions of views, funerals for little girls is that appealing to you?

~Chance the Rapper

Whats better than followers, is actually falling in love

~Chance the Rapper

Sometimes the truth don't rhyme

~Chance the Rapper

Kanye took me from a kid who listened to music to a kid who lived music.

~Chance the Rapper

Fame or perceived success - it all comes from groupthink.

~Chance the Rapper

Music can kind of make you one-dimensional. People see what's on the surface and what you rap about, and they make their decision on who you are from there.

~Chance the Rapper

I'm light skinned, and I used to lean on that because that's something a lot of black people pride themselves on, and it's weird.

~Chance the Rapper

For me, performing is the biggest part of being a rapper. There's nothing like the feeling of screaming your story to people.

~Chance the Rapper

I make money from touring and selling merchandise, and I honestly believe if you put effort into something and you execute properly, you don't necessarily have to go through the traditional ways.

~Chance the Rapper

I made the decision that I was going to make rap music in, like, fourth grade, so it's been something I was saying for a long time.

~Chance the Rapper

A cool & diversified version of a mix tape. The BreakBeat Poets is a thorough and complete summation of Golden Era writers who continue to build the scene of literary and performance poetry.

~Chance the Rapper

I don't really have control over my direct impression on people anymore. I used to be the person putting my CD in people's hands. But I'm kind of a mainstream artist now. Not by choice.

~Chance the Rapper

My favorite artist in the world is Michael Jackson, and he revolutionized the music video aspect of music.

~Chance the Rapper

Chance the Rapper' is many things. I'm constantly evolving.

~Chance the Rapper

I've never met Eminem; you don't meet Eminem. He has his own secret service.

~Chance the Rapper

I dont really like meetings, I like recording and performing music. I need to set myself up for when the time does come that I need better distribution or just a bigger team behind me.

~Chance the Rapper

I think even before I knew I wanted to be a rapper, I wanted to be an entertainer. I was really into Michael Jackson as a kid.

~Chance the Rapper

Both of my parents graduated from high school, both attended college, both have government jobs now. They've always been very adamant about me finishing high school and finishing college.

~Chance the Rapper

Chicago is a beautiful city - the architecture, the food, everything in the city is awesome.

~Chance the Rapper

Jeremih has been my favorite artist to collab with.
