You will never 'find' time for anything. If you want time, you must make it.

~Charles Buxton

In life, as in Chess, ones own Pawns block ones way. A mans very wealth, ease, leisure, children, books, which should help him to win, more often checkmate him

~Charles Buxton

Bad temper is its own scourge. Few things are more bitter than to feel bitter. A man's venom poisons himself more than his victim.

~Charles Buxton

A successful career has been full of blunders.

~Charles Buxton

You cannot win without sacrifice.

~Charles Buxton

A large family party is rather too much like a flight of tomtits; everlasting twitter, but no conversation; gregariousness without companionship.

~Charles Buxton

In life, as in chess, forethought wins.

~Charles Buxton

The fact is - nothing comes, at least nothing good. All has to be fetched.

~Charles Buxton

I once met a man who had forgiven an injury. I hope some day to meet the man who has forgiven an insult.

~Charles Buxton

Proverbs are potted wisdom.

~Charles Buxton

Self-laudation abounds among the unpolished, but nothing can stamp a man more sharply as ill-bred.

~Charles Buxton

Indulge in procrastination, and in time you will come to this, that because a thing ought to be done, therefore you can't do it.

~Charles Buxton

Few things are more bitter than to feel bitter.

~Charles Buxton

Experience shows that success is due less to ability than to zeal.

~Charles Buxton

You have not fulfilled every duty unless you have fulfilled that of being pleasant.

~Charles Buxton

To make pleasures pleasant shorten them.

~Charles Buxton

Success soon palls. The joyous time is when the breeze first strikes your sails, and the waters rustle under your bows.

~Charles Buxton

A man's venom poisons himself more than his victims.

~Charles Buxton

All movement, of every creature, comes from the desire after something better.

~Charles Buxton

All high truth is poetry. Take the results of science: they glow with beauty, cold and hard as are the methods of reaching them.

~Charles Buxton

Pounds are the sons, not of pounds, but of pence.

~Charles Buxton
