Our holiness is an effect, not a cause; so long as our eyes are on our own personal whiteness as an end in itself, the thing breaks down.

~Charles Simeon

That however advanced any man may 'be-in' age or piety, he is still in danger of falling.

~Charles Simeon

The sigh, the groan of a broken heart, will soon go through the ceiling up to heaven, aye, into the very bosom of God.

~Charles Simeon

Justification by faith alone, is the hinge upon which the whole of Christianity turns

~Charles Simeon

Our calling is not primarily to be holy women, but to work for God and for others with Him.

~Charles Simeon

The tender heart, the broken and contrite spirit, are to me far above all the joys that I could ever hope for in this vale of tears.

~Charles Simeon

I have never thought that the circumstance of God's having forgiven me was any reason why I should forgive myself.

~Charles Simeon

Feast of the Holy Cross Does not every man feel, that there is corruption enough within him to drive him to the commission of the greatest enormities, and eternally to destroy his soul?

~Charles Simeon

No man can in any measure resemble the scripture saints.

~Charles Simeon
