If malice or envy were tangible and had a shape, it would be the shape of a boomerang.

~Charley Reese

Reason and truth have rarely prevailed against demagoguery when the audience is too ignorant to tell the difference.

~Charley Reese

Credibility, like virginity, can only be lost once and never recovered.

~Charley Reese

Here's your enemy for this week, the government says. And some gullible Americans click their heels and salute - often without knowing who or even where the enemy of the week is.

~Charley Reese

The truth is that neither British nor American imperialism was or is idealistic. It has always been driven by economic or strategic interests.

~Charley Reese

If you believe in the right to life, then you must believe in the right to have the means to defend that life.

~Charley Reese

Gun-control has always been an elitist method of controlling the common.

~Charley Reese

Politicians are the only people in the world who create problems and then campaign against them.

~Charley Reese

Don't live beyond your means. Don't buy more than you can pay for. Don't expect to get rich quick. And don't confuse salesmen for friends or advisers.

~Charley Reese

Capitalism is like math. It is amoral. It is good at producing wealth; it's bad at distributing wealth. Unless it operates within a moral framework it will produce an unjust society.

~Charley Reese

Americans who value freedom had better be more concerned about the gun control crowd than the criminals. The criminals want your money. The Neo-Totalitarians want your freedom.

~Charley Reese

Some lawyers and judges may have forgotten it, but the purpose of the court system is to produce justice, not slavish obedience to the law.

~Charley Reese

A nation dies culturally and spiritually first. Its money and its army are the last to go, but go they do once the light goes out in the nation's soul.

~Charley Reese

Congress seems to want to cure every ill known to man except unconstitutional government and high taxes.

~Charley Reese

The politicians in this world... have at their command weapons of mass destruction far more complex than their own thinking processes.

~Charley Reese

[Y]ou cannot determine either the truth or the right or wrong of anything with a poll. You can only tabulate people's opinions.

~Charley Reese

When power is for sale, then government power should be severely limited. When power is abused, then the less power the better.

~Charley Reese

We...are not really free if we can't control our own government and its policies. And we will never do that if we remain ignorant.

~Charley Reese

If we could manage our own finances the way the Congress does the nation's, we'd all be living in high cotton and eating high on the hog.

~Charley Reese

Experience to a politician is like experience to a prostitute - not much to recommend them.

~Charley Reese

It is a foolish man who believes that the status quo can be maintained indefinitely.

~Charley Reese

It is naturally only a coincidence that all too often, American foreign-policy objectives dovetail nicely with the economic objectives of multinational corporations.

~Charley Reese

People who believe in gun control are ignorant, superstitious or stupid.

~Charley Reese

That's what abortion is - killing innocent humans for money. Abortionists are government licensed hit men.

~Charley Reese

Powers once assumed are never relinquished, just as bureaucracies, once created, never die.

~Charley Reese

Government is inherently incompetent, and no matter what task it is assigned, it will do it in the most expensive and inefficient way possible.

~Charley Reese

Some years ago an excellent professor of economics told his class in his gravelly voice, 'If you pay me $50,000 a year to solve a problem, I damned sure ain't going to solve it.'

~Charley Reese

Disregarding the value of religion and believing in egalitarianism are two misconceptions that cause America much trouble today.

~Charley Reese

[N]o American should retreat an inch on the right of jurors to acquit if they perceive the law or its administration to be unjust.
