

Charlie Day

Quotes

Thinking, People, Writing, Character, Guy, Actors, Men, Voice, Ideas, New York, Food, Mind, Growing Up, Insecure, Pressure, Waiting, Parent, Two, Lines, Baseball

I don't think you should just do what makes you happy. Do what makes you great.

~Charlie Day

Growing up in Rhode Island, my friends would have strung me up if I had been a Yankees fan.

~Charlie Day

You do not have to be fearless, just don't let fear stop you.

~Charlie Day

People are demanding so much of me. They really want to pigeonhole me.

~Charlie Day

I have expanded my mind and destroyed my liver but I didn't give up.

~Charlie Day

Cats do not abide by the laws of nature.

~Charlie Day

I'm not the biggest fan of comedies where nothing is real.

~Charlie Day

It doesn't really matter to me whether the 7-year-olds are big fans of my work. I'm happy just to be working at all. I do think it will be nice to have a movie that my son can watch.

~Charlie Day

Knowing that I'm not a model and I'm never going to be has relieved me of the pressure of looking good. If you don't establish yourself as McDreamy then you don't have to live up to it.

~Charlie Day

I eat stickers all the time dude!

~Charlie Day

Still when I go on talk shows, I worry that I have to live up to a comedic persona.

~Charlie Day

Thinking of Plan B muddies up your chances of succeeding at Plan A.

~Charlie Day

Everyone knows what it's like to feel like the underdog. Everyone wants to be accepted. Ultimately, everybody wants to be loved.

~Charlie Day

Occasionally it can be a little disappointing to see rock gods in their 60s or 70s up on stage.

~Charlie Day

Sometimes even hearing a bad idea is a great way to get to a good idea.

~Charlie Day

Both of my parents are actually music teachers. I think I got to a certain age where I decided I'd rather be a baseball player than a musician. Now, like most kids, I regret it.

~Charlie Day

I always have my best thoughts on the toilet.

~Charlie Day

For the people who don't know, my character could be described, in a nutshell, as the bar dumb-dumb.

~Charlie Day

My parents are more likely to know who Franz Liszt is than Snooki.

~Charlie Day

I never saw myself as a comedian. I saw myself as a guy who can act funny.

~Charlie Day

I waited tables in New York, and when you're in that line of work, you often have a horrible boss.

~Charlie Day

Technically, I'm a New Yorker.

~Charlie Day

The idea of doing stand-up is terrifying to me.

~Charlie Day

Well, you know, I don't think anyone who writes a television series has a master plan from the beginning, and knows all the character traits, and everything that's going to happen.

~Charlie Day

Don't wait for your break, make your break. Go make it happen for yourself.

~Charlie Day

Hot soup at table is very vulgar; it either leads to an unseemly mode of taking it, or keeps people waiting too long whilst it cools. Soup should be brought to table only moderately warm.

~Charlie Day

As an actor, sometimes you feel a pressure to change yourself from time to time.

~Charlie Day

Actors put ourselves in awkward positions all the time.

~Charlie Day

Both of my parents are actually music teachers.

~Charlie Day

Yeah, I've always considered myself a musical person.

~Charlie Day

In my theater days I assumed that you had to get rid of yourself to do a character well, and I don't think I was a very good actor when I did that.

~Charlie Day

I think people are surprised when I string two sentences together. But I had a fiercely academic upbringing.

~Charlie Day

I think we're all guilty of mistaking the actors we've seen over and over again - we think we know them.

~Charlie Day

I always was a funny guy, the class clown. I had a very funny dad and an extremely funny grandmother.

~Charlie Day

You're happy that people are seeing your work. As for the critics, it really hurts when they knock you.

~Charlie Day

I've never written anything that wasn't somewhat of a collaboration. I don't know how people do it on their own.

~Charlie Day

I was a theater guy growing up and I wanted to be Al Pacino, and I think I just looked and sounded too funny.

~Charlie Day

I love Queen. Not all of it. Some of it, I can't get into. But "Don't Stop Me Now" is a pretty hilarious song. It's a good pick-me-up in the car.

~Charlie Day

I am a classical fan. I like Debussy a lot, so I was trying to learn it on the piano. I've learned like a third of it, but I think I'm getting to a section that may be beyond my skill level.

~Charlie Day

I don't know any songs. People have asked me to play a song, and I say, "I don't know anything."

~Charlie Day

I didn't know that it was going to launch a quote-unquote comedic career. I just wanted to do anything other than wait tables.

~Charlie Day

I put myself in the category of "Lucky Guy," and my hopes for the future are that I can continue to push the envelope for myself, and creatively and see what's next.

~Charlie Day

Because Guillermo's [del Toro] obviously a painter painting a picture and my job is just to provide the color that he probably already has in his mind.

~Charlie Day

You live your comedic life close to the edge, you're gonna cross the line and offend people.

~Charlie Day

I am a Patsy Cline fan.

~Charlie Day

I was the world's smallest man, covered in freckles with a squeaky, scratchy voice. And I still am, but I've learned to love myself.

~Charlie Day

Writing is like pulling your hair out. You have nothing, and you can't think of anything, but you have to think of something.

~Charlie Day

As an actor, I think every moment in your life is giving you a new set of tools. You're constantly absorbing new information that you can put back onto the screen.

~Charlie Day

Related Links:

- Thinking Quotes
- People Quotes
- Writing Quotes
- Character Quotes
- Guy Quotes
- Actors Quotes
- Men Quotes
- Voice Quotes
- Ideas Quotes
- New York Quotes
- Food Quotes
- Mind Quotes
- Growing Up Quotes
- Insecure Quotes
- Pressure Quotes
- Waiting Quotes
- Parent Quotes
- Two Quotes
- Lines Quotes
- Baseball Quotes