Feminism is an entire world view or gestalt, not just a laundry list of women's issues.

~Charlotte Bunch

Sexual, racial, gender violence and other forms of discrimination and violence in a culture cannot be eliminated without changing culture.

~Charlotte Bunch

What is being called the UN 'gender architecture' is more like a shack. Women need a bigger global house if equality is ever to become a reality.

~Charlotte Bunch

I'd make a comment at a meeting and nobody would even acknowledge me. Then some man would say the same thing and they'd all nod.

~Charlotte Bunch

Feminism is a transformational force, an individual and social force. It is a way of looking at the world—a questioning of power/domination issues, an affirmation of women's energy.

~Charlotte Bunch

The state of the world today demands that women become less modest and dream/plan/act/risk on a larger scale.

~Charlotte Bunch

Leadership is people taking the initiative, carrying things through, having ideas and the imagination to get something started, and exhibiting particular skills in different areas.

~Charlotte Bunch

Women have a lot to say about how to advance women's rights, and governments need to learn from that, listen to the movement and respond.

~Charlotte Bunch

Our very strength as lesbians lies in the fact that we are outside of patriarchy; our existence challenges its life.

~Charlotte Bunch

We know that priorities are amiss in the world when a man gets a military medal of honor for killing another man and a dishonorable discharge for loving one.

~Charlotte Bunch

We need women leaders. But we need them to have a vision for something.

~Charlotte Bunch

If you think that you are where you are just because you worked hard, it is easy to become self-righteous and make classist moral judgments about others.

~Charlotte Bunch

As a human rights issue, the effort to end violence against women becomes a government's obligation, not just a good idea.

~Charlotte Bunch

There is no issue that is not a women's issue.

~Charlotte Bunch

There is no private domain of a person's life that is not political, and there is no political issue that is not ultimately personal.

~Charlotte Bunch

America is like an unfaithful love who promises us more than we got.

~Charlotte Bunch

We do not need, and indeed never will have, all the answers before we act ... It is often through taking action that we can discover some of them.

~Charlotte Bunch

People learn to lead because they care about something.
