My Own

Our attitude is that we want to cross over. You can't go on making records just for your own hometown.

~Cheryl James

None of Your Business.' It's the only Salt-N-Pepa song that I regret.

~Cheryl James

I'm at a point in my life where I have something solid now. I'm a peaceful person, and I want to be surrounded by peace no matter what I'm doing.

~Cheryl James

Change is not an event, its a process.

~Cheryl James

For me, the bulimia was about stuffing my emotions. So I stopped suppressing my feelings.

~Cheryl James

There are different kinds of people in the world.

~Cheryl James

I don't like the fact that there are so few women in rap.

~Cheryl James

It is stupid not to talk about sex. It is stupid not to communicate with your spouse and your children. It can't be a taboo.

~Cheryl James

One of the speakers asked how many women had been harassed or abused sexually in their life? There were thousands of women in the audience, and almost every one of them raised her hand.

~Cheryl James

People have this impression that I'm this crazy Christian, but I'm really balanced.

~Cheryl James

The best form of flattery is to be admired, imitated or respected. I've always felt proud our fans look up to us or feel we are inspirational.

~Cheryl James

There are a lot of good things that we can do. Maybe my example can help someone.

~Cheryl James

I've changed my life in a lot of ways. I'm a mom, a wife, and a Christian. Some of the things I expressed in my early 20s aren't what I care to express right now.

~Cheryl James

I'm really open to doing music. We just have to figure out what kind of music it's going to be - something where I don't feel compromised.

~Cheryl James

I'm not really into the fashion thing.

~Cheryl James

I remember feeling all right with myself until age 13. Then, I was getting off the bus one day and this guy called me Miss Piggy. That was the first time I ever really felt like I wasn't okay.

~Cheryl James

I got to that desperate place where nobody could help me but God.

~Cheryl James

I don't want to give the illusion that one day God came down and I was healed.

~Cheryl James

If the opportunity comes about that's right and it can be a smooth thing, yeah sure. But for the moment, I'm concentrating on my own stuff.

~Cheryl James

Christians often want to hide behind the walls of the church, where we are comfortable, but sometimes we have to come out of the box.
